NAZIS RETREAT BEFORE EIGHTH ARMY ADVANCE

Germans Driven from Adriatic End of Winter Line in Italy.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Dec. 2—The American Fifth army has launched large scale attacks in Italy, supported by three destroyers, the Berlin radio said today.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Dec 2—The Germans are retreat from their heavily fortified winter line near the Adriatic, leaving battleground littered with wounded and wrecked allied headquarters said today.

At the same time the Nazis apparently were making preparations to abandon Cassino on the Rapido, main inland road to a valley to Rome, in the face of increasing pressure from Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's Fifth army which resumed yesterday by terrific aerial bombardment.

Allied pilots reported heavy explosions and demolitions at Cassino, approximately 12 miles northwest of the battle-lined front at Mignano, and said after fighter-bombers, Mitchells and A-36 dive-bombers had pounded German defenses along a 20-mile front for three days.

Sweeping over at 10-minute intervals, waves of planes showered thousands of fragmentation and high explosive bombs upon German gun emplacements, trenches and fortifications, leaving them a tangled mass of ruin.

Forces to abandon mountain positions north of the Sangro river on the Adriatic in front of the offensive of Gen. Sir Bernard Law Montgomery's Eighth army, the Germans left more than 1,000 dead behind, and were rushing up reinforcements from northern Italy in an effort to stem the breakthrough.

(The German communique broadcast from Berlin said Montgomery made four heavy tank attacks in one sector yesterday.)

"On the Eighth army front our troops have broken through the enemy positions. The Germans are in full retreat," said a special communique from allied headquarters.

"Reinforcements are being brought up by the Germans from southern Italy," the communique said, in an effort to halt the British through.

Goodrich Co. Plant To Be Located Here

Rubber Life Rafts Factory Expected To Employ 300, Mostly Women.

The B F Goodrich Co announced in Akron this morning the location of a duration manufacturing plant in Marion to make "certain war products."

The two-story brick building located at the southeast corner of North Main and George streets has been selected as the site for the plant, the announcement said. The building, used in recent months by the Universal Cooler Corp, as a warehouse, is owned by the Malo brothers.

Production in the new Marion plant will start on or about Dec. 15, the announcement said. Between now and then equipment will be moved here from Akron and a local office will be set up, it was understood.

Although the announcement made in Akron today explained Marion was selected as the site of the new plant as a means of relieving the acute manpower shortage in Akron, it did not state how many persons would be employed.

Mostly Women Workers

However, Marion men who played an instrumental part in the location of the plant here were previously told that between 200 and 300 persons mostly women, would be employed when production gets into full swing.

Next Monday a labor relations representative will come here from the company's home offices in Akron to arrange for the hiring of key personnel. It was understood that those employed at first by the company will be trained in the operation to be performed in the Marion plant so that they will be able to train those hired later on as production commences.

Fred B. Scherff, manager of the U. S. Employment Service offices here, said today he had not been formally notified of the company's decision to locate in Marion. He also said that as yet he has been given no indication of how many persons will be employed.

While the company's formal notice of the selection of Marion as the site for one of its new plants stated only that "certain war products" would be made here, it was understood that rubber life rafts will be the principal product.

Labor Supply Factor

Considered as one of the principal reasons for the location of a Goodrich plant here is the fact that hundreds of women in the immediate Marion area are now out of work as a result of the closing of the Scioto Ordnance Plant. With only a moderate amount of training many of these women are expected to be able to take over jobs with the Goodrich Co.

Marion has been under consideration by Goodrich as a prospective plant site for about a month. Arrangements for the location of the plant were handled through the offices of the Marion Chamber of Commerce. Louis E. Michel, secretary of the Chamber, served as one of the key contacts with the Akron firm.

The Goodrich Co. is the second sizeable plant to locate in Marion in recent weeks. The Frazier Manufacturing Co., manufacturers of moisture-proof bags for airplane motors and parts, located here recently as the result of arrangements made through the Chamber of Commerce.

WOMAN GIVEN PRISON TERM

Marion Mother Sentenced for Harboring School Boys and Girls.

A 27-year-old Marion woman was sentenced to the Women's reformatory at Marysville for six months, and the case of a second woman, brought into juvenile court on a charge of neglect, was continued by Juvenile Judge Oscar Gast, yesterday.

The 27-year-old woman, Mrs. Ruth Childs of 293 Niles street, who was under a suspended sentence for contributing to the delinquency of minors, was sentenced on charges preferred by A. T. Allen, visiting teacher in the city schools, for harboring boys and girls of elementary and high school age.

Mother of Four

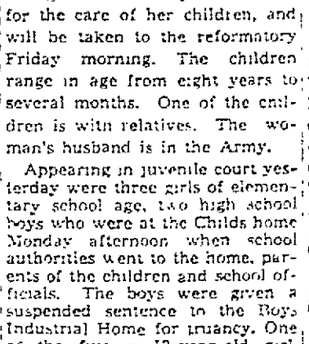
The mother of four children, three of whom are at home, she was given a few days to arrange for the care of her children, and will be taken to the reformatory Friday morning. The children range in age from eight years to several months. One of the children is with relatives. The woman's husband is in the Army.

Appearing in juvenile court yesterday were three girls of elementary school age, two high school boys who were at the Childs home Monday afternoon when school authorities went to the home, parents of the children and school officials. The boys were given a suspended sentence to the Boys Industrial Home for truancy. One of the five, a 13-year-old girl, taken to the Detention home Monday afternoon, was released to her mother, following the hearing.

Other Complaints Received

Reports of other instances where adults have been harboring boys and girls in their homes during school hours, have been received by the visiting teacher and school authorities and these will be prosecuted if enough evidence is found to bring about the filing of charges, Mr. Allen stated.

Mrs Beulah Jones Laird of 720 Roma street, brought into juvenile court for the neglect of her teenage daughter, was ordered to provide a home and suitable clothing for the child and see to it that she attended school regularly. Her case was continued by Judge Gast.



REPATRIATES LEAVE FOR HOMES IN U. S.

By The Associated Press

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Dec 2—American repatriates from the Far East headed for their homes throughout the nation today with a grim feeling a long, hard struggle lies ahead in the Pacific.

One after another said upon stepping from the Swedish exchange liner Gripsholm to American soil the morale of the Japanese people still was high, whatever doubts might assail the warlords.

At 11:30 o'clock (EWT) last night, 13 hours after the ship had docked, all but 200 of 1,494 passengers had disembarked.

Russell Brines, of The Associated Press bureau in Manila, who formerly worked in the Tokyo bureau, said on leaving the ship:

"I think the Japanese will keep on fighting at least five more years as things are going now. The vital element in the situation is their ability to continue communications and production."

Dr. T. B. Dunn of San Francisco, vice chairman of the American Red Cross in China, who arrived here with his wife and three children, expressed belief it would

McCoy Brother-in-Law To Face Charges in All Three Deaths

James W. Collett, Whose Wife Is Slain Man's Sister, Admits He Killed Farmer in Quarrel Over Money.

(Picture on Page 16)

By ARTHUR S. BOSTWICK
Associated Press Writer

TOLEDO, O., Dec. 2—Prosecutor John B. Hill said today James W. Collett, confessed slayer of Elmer McCoy, his wealthy brother-in-law probably would be charged in warrants also with the deaths of McCoy's wife and daughter.

Collett broke down under questioning and confessed last night, Hill announced, that he slew McCoy in an argument over money at the McCoy home "Oak View" near Washington C. H., Thanksgiving eve.

But thereafter, Hill said Collett insisted, his mind became blank and he remembered nothing until enroute home. The bodies of McCoy, 59-year-old prominent swine breeder; his wife Forrest, 54, and daughter Mildred, 22, were found on the farm a week ago this morning.

The questioning of Collett suddenly resumed at noon, officers and detectives going to his cell and picking up where they left off after Collett broke last night.

It was understood they were seeking to locate the gun with which McCoy was slain.

Hill remarked to newsmen that during questioning in Washington C. H. Tuesday, the man said:

"I'll bet you a thousand dollars you'll never find those guns on my farm."

Hill has said two weapons were used in the slayings, a .38 and .32 calibre.

Sheriff W. C. Icenhower, saying he considered all the slayings solved by the purported confession, indicated Collett would not be returned to Washington C. H. for some time.

"I am concerned over the possible public reaction," he said.

Collett apparently slept well in his jail cell last night, and still was asleep at 7 a. m. He ate a regular jail breakfast of cinnamon rolls and coffee and then was fingerprinted and photographed. He voiced no complaint of any nature.

There was no indication when the party might start back to Washington C. H.

Collett, a prosperous farm leader who lives near Wilmington, broke last night after hours of questioning and lie detector tests in the Toledo police department's crime laboratory.

Repeats Collett's Story

Prosecutor Hill said Collett related this story:

That on the night before Thanksgiving he visited the McCoy's "Oak View" farm to seek

Harding Students Open Jeep Drive

"Jeeps for Christmas" is the slogan of a bond drive which got underway this morning among students of Harding High school.

Originated by the Harding student council, of which Charles Elliott is president, and directed by the student council bond committee, the drive will continue through the Yule season.

During home room period each Thursday for the next two weeks and again on Tuesday, Dec. 21, bonds will be sold by the home room secretaries. This morning the equivalent of 10 $25 bonds were sold. For each 50 $25 bonds purchased by Harding students in the next three weeks a jeep will roll off the assembly line of an American war plant bearing the name, "Harding High School."

In charge of the drive is a committee consisting of Arlene Hill, chairman, Bob England, Elizabeth Kern and Frank DeSanto. Miss Isabelle Stump is faculty advisor of the group.

PACIFIC BATTLE TEMPO GAINS

Action by Air, Land and Sea Stepped Up in Many Sectors.

By The Associated Press

By land, sea and air, the allies fought today along the vast Pacific battlefront to hasten the day of Japan's defeat and dissolution of her empire as mapped by the historic three-power conference in Cairo.

Latest allied war bulletins told of Chinese successes in three provinces of China; a step-up in naval activity in the southwest Pacific, and air blows that rocked Japanese positions from Rangoon to Bougainville.

Dispatches from Pacific fleet headquarters said the greatest naval concentration in history and hundreds of thousands of allied troops awaited the attack order, "which may come any minute."

Gilbert Attack Costly

What attack sometimes costs was shown in the Navy announcement yesterday on American casualties in the Gilberts. A total of 1,092 men were killed and 2,680 wounded, preliminary reports indicated, in winning the mid-Pacific bases.

Maj. Gen. Holland McTeire Smith, commander of assault forces, estimated Japanese casualties at more than 5700, and said the campaign gained invaluable knowledge of further operations.

The agreement reached by the United States, Great Britain and China for "the unconditional surrender of Japan and to strip the aggressor of all pre-aggression stakes" 50 years ago was seen in

BIG 3 MAPS DRIVE TO CRUSH GERMANS BEFORE WINTER ENDS

Talks Follow Decision with Chiang at Cairo To Strip Japs of Stolen Lands.

By The Associated Press

President Roosevelt, Marshal Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill were reported conferring today in the Persian capital of Teheran on a supreme drive to crush Germany before winter ends.

Dispatches from Washington and London suggested the big three were making as fateful a decision for Germany as that announced last night for Japan: A solemn resolve to thrash Japan into unconditional surrender, tear away the empire she has looted in the last 50 years and return the Japanese to their home islands.

Russia was not a party to that "Pacific charter" announced by Mr. Roosevelt, Mr. Churchill and President Chiang Kai-shek, for Russia is at peace with Japan.

The more immediate process of bringing Germany to her knees proceeded in Russia, in Italy and in the clouds above the bomb-torn reich.

The whole German defense system north of the Sangro river appeared to have given away before the powerful lunges of the British Eighth army in eastern Italy. The retreating Germans abandoned large amounts of material.

Knockout of Nazis Chief Topic

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2—A supreme allied drive to crush Germany before this winter's end stood out today as one of the most probable subjects for discussion by President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Marshal Stalin in their first three-way grand strategy conference of the war.

The principal requirement of Russian strategy, as understood by American experts on the eastern front here, is the fact that while the Russians can mount major offensives in the winter and summer, they can not undertake large scale operations in the spring because of heavy mud.

Thus if the assault in the west is to be coordinated with a smashing drive in the east it must be started before the winter's end or delayed until summer.

First Meeting of Big Three

The recent Moscow meeting of foreign ministers and allied military experts afforded the first occasion for exchange of information but the powers of decision, as vested in the president, prime minister and marshal, are brought together for the first time in the conference now believed in progress some where in the Middle East.

That the long-discussed second front may be the prime topic was indicated in an Associated Press dispatch from Cairo announcing last night the result of the initial conference of the present historic series.

This dispatch said "it was reported reliably that the British and American general staffs engaged in a long argument and discussion on details of a second front." Talk of Mediterranean operations suggested possible strikes

Invasion Details Are Agreed On

By The Associated Press

CAIRO, Dec. 2—Britain and the United States agreed on details for a new invasion of Europe and perhaps discussed a strike into the Balkans, it was reported on good authority today, at the epic tri-power conference where, with China, they pledged unrelenting war to thrash Japan into unconditional surrender and tear away the whole empire she has won in 50 years of conquest.

There was feeling here that big developments would come from the five-day meeting of President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, who left for unannounced destinations last Friday after completing their talks.

(Chiang returned to Chungking yesterday, it was disclosed in Chungking, apparently disposing of rumors that Generalissimo and Mrs. Chiang had proceeded to Iran with Roosevelt and Churchill to confer with Premier Marshal Stalin. Reuters reported from Lisbon Tuesday that Chiang was in the party going to Iran, and the Berlin radio said yesterday a four-way conference already was underway in Teheran).

For Japan, the three war leaders promised "unrelenting pressure • • • by sea, land and air," and declared they would strip her of all her empire stolen in five wars since 1894—reducing Japan virtually to the same territorial status as before Commodore Perry opened up that oriental land in 1853. Only her home islands would remain.

Reach Major Decisions

Major decisions were reported reached for developments in World War two, and while the official announcement dealt only with Japan, no one questioned

Source of Secret Conference News Leak Sought in Commons

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Dec. 2—Brendan Bracken, British information minister, answering questions in commons today aimed at placing responsibility for the worldwide news leakage on the North African conference, said "in my opinion they ought to be absolute security conferences in the future.

Apparently he meant absolutely nothing should be printed about conferences from any source until the official news is released.

Grilled about press arrangements and the fact that the BBC broadcast news of the conference to Europe 24 hours before it was released to British newspapers, Bracken explained the BBC report was based on a Reuters dispatch from Lisbon.

(The Reuters dispatch, issued Tuesday, 30 hours before official announcement of the conference, said it had been held and that President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill had proceeded to Iran to talk with Premier Marshal Stalin.

Elmer Davis Protests

Elmer Davis, OWI director at Washington, has already protested the Reuters dispatches.

Bracken told commons "we have no responsibility for Lisbon nor for Reuters I could only say the British government could not take any responsibility for it."

Arthur Greenwood, Laborite and former minister without portfolio, remarked that conference news leaked out of Washington 10 days ago and asked if the British government should not endeavor to obtain uniform British-American treatment of such news.

Bracken said, "I am quite certain there has been no bad faith in this matter but so many people are in on this secret and somebody falls down."

"Alone of all the peoples of the world," said the London Daily Mail, "the British public Tuesday was not trusted with news of the meeting. Every radio station in the world—friendly, enemy, neutral and allied—with

Railroads Plan for Competition in Post-War Era

By The United Press

CHICAGO—The nation's railroads intend to maintain their present high level of passenger travel in the post-war period against keen competition by the airlines and highway transportation agencies, according to a statement from the "Railway Age" publication.

"The railroad officials anticipate a greater travel than ever before.

"It will be a fight, but I enjoy fights and we are planning to give competition just as unpleasant a surprise as possible through improvement or complete revision of railway passenger service."

The overall planning program laid out by many railroads includes the putting of new luxuriously appointed lightweight cars into service, thus replacing the present heavy, crowded equipment.

Cutting passenger fares to the minimum is another improvement planned by railroads, along with speeding up of schedules which will enable more frequent service.

The railroad executives are mapping plans for extensive advertising programs in the future to show to the general public why and how the railroads can offer more travel advantages than their competitors.

While railroad officials consider passenger safety first and are reluctant to increase streamliner speeds more than 100 miles an hour, they believe travel time can be shortened by eliminating unnecessary station delays.

With railroad travel economy in mind, one railroad executive advocated "an immediate slice in coach rates to 1 and ¼ cents per mile, and a reduction in first-class rates to 2 and ¼ cents per mile." Another railroad official went still further when he said:

"I make the radical but eminently sound statement that coach fares should be a flat one cent per mile."

INTEREST IN BOOKS ON JAPAN REVIVED

By The United Press

INDIANAPOLIS — Charles A. Beard, Hoosier who has become dean of American historians, has two books of "global" implications undergoing a sudden revival at local libraries—"The Administration and Politics of Tokyo" and "The Balkan Pivot—Yugoslavia."

Apparently readers felt anything which might suggest ways of administering the politics of Tokyo—along American lines—was on 1943's "imperative" list.

Librarians say, however, that the new demand for these books, issued in 1923 and 1929, respectively, in no sense exceeds the steady volume of requests for Beard's monumental studies, "Rise of American Civilization" and "America in Mid-Passage."

These two books probably insured Beard's fame for generations, and placed him with the venerable John Dewey in philosophy and William P. Hocking in theology. Some reviewers have said the triumvirate synthesized the best in American ideology and history.

Beard was born in Knightown, Ind., in 1874. He attended DePauw university, obtaining his Ph.D. in 1898 and his LL.D. in 1900. Later he obtained a doctorate at Columbia university in New York and became a member of the faculty in 1907.

In 1900, Beard married Mary Ritter of Indianapolis. She was co-author with him of "America in Mid-Passage" and other books, as well as an individual authority on labor movements.

Beard was director of the Training School for Public Service in New York during 1917-22. At various times, he was president of the American Historical association, the American Political Science association, and the American Association of Adult Education.

His latest book is the recently-issued "The Republic."

DEC. 7 HONOR DAY RESOLUTION VETOED

... Inappropriate, Explains President.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2—President Roosevelt has vetoed a resolution of congress which would have designated December 7 as national war services honor day. He said he considers the commemoration of Pearl Harbor day as "singularly inappropriate."

In a message to the senate today he said further that it would be unwise to establish during the course of the war a day to honor those serving in the armed forces.

"Moreover, the commemoration proposed in the measure is singularly inappropriate," he said. "December seventh, two years ago, is a day that will live in this country as a day of infamy on the part of a cowardly enemy. The day itself needs no reminder, and the country should rather exhort all the people of the nation to increase their efforts and devotion to the successful prosecution of the war.

"Furthermore, it seems to me unwise to establish at this time a day to be set aside to specifically commemorate all who have served in the armed forces of the United States during the course of the present war. I think that a suitable date can be found for this purpose, and that future events will ordain the appropriate date for such a commemoration."

Women Needed for Air Corps Office Training

An opportunity for women of Marion and Marion county to obtain details concerning training for skilled office work with the Air Service command, a division of the Army Air corps, will be given here Saturday.

A representative of the service will be at the Y.M.C.A. to give information concerning training from 11:30 a. m. to 8 p. m. Saturday in the Hobby club room.

The U. S. war department, in order to meet immediate and future needs for trained office workers at Patterson Field, Fairfield, O., has established a training center at Tiffin University, Tiffin, O. An intensive training program has been established and is now in progress. Students are admitted each Monday. Women 17 and up who are not now engaged in essential industry are urged by the war department to apply. While in training, students are classified as employes of civil service and receive approximately $130 a month. After successfully completing training, workers receive a salary of $1,752 a year. Application blanks may be secured by writing Representative, U. S. Civil Service commission, Air Service Training division, Tiffin university, Tiffin, O. or at the local postoffice.

LIVES HUNG IN BALANCE

NORFOLK, VA. — Patrolman Roxie Curles hurried to a grocery store on the report of a citizen that a robber had broken in and was flashing a light around. Sure enough, Curles saw a light flashing off and on when he peered through a window. A minute later he saw a cat jump from the meat scales and the light on the scale dial, flashed off. Patrolman Curles put away his gun.

Gloves Combat Rust Saboteur

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

PHILADELPHIA — An order for all workers to wear gloves when packing war instruments made of polished metal, whether steel, bronze or others, has been issued by the office of the Chief of Ordnance for Free-Control Instruments.

The touch of bare fingers causes corrosion. The rust due to fingers develops even underneath coatings of grease or oil which is smeared over these parts for shipment to the fronts. Finished steel, packed in glass jars, and completely immersed in corrosion compounds, has been found rusted from the touch of human fingers.

Acid in human moisture is the reason. The fire control parts go into the mechanical brains which determine ranges and for some guns do a large share of automatic aiming and firing.

Before these parts are packed it is further required that any finger prints that may have been left on them in manufacture and assembling operations be removed by chemical cleaning.

Even after a chemically cleaned part has been covered with grease, it is not to be touched by bare fingers.

NAZI RESERVES ATTACK REDS

Germans Throw Heavy Forces Into Battle Along 600-Mile Long Front.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Dec. 2—Huge forces of German reserves are attacking all along the 600-mile eastern front in a desperate bid to regain control of vital communications and supply lines and halt the surging Russian drive to the old Polish border Moscow reported today.

The Russians declared, however, they were holding their lines against fierce Nazi onslaughts, and even announced slight advances in White Russia and in the Dnieper bend. There was no mention in the Russian communique of developments in the Kiev bulge, where the Germans previously had recaptured the rail junctions of Zhitomir and Korosten to regain control of a 45-mile-long stretch of the important Leningrad-Odessa railway west of the Dnieper river.

But the intensity of the fighting was heightened, dispatches indicated, as both sides sought to improve their positions.

Apparently the Nazis held the advantage in communications since they were using well-equipped trunk lines in bringing up reserves from the west. The Russians were using railways only recently retaken from the enemy, most of which were wrecked in the German retreat.

German defenses southwest of Kremenchug in the Dnieper bend, Moscow said, were crashed by Red army troops, who held their gains against 15 massed counter-attacks. At the Cherkasy bridgehead, north of Kremenchug, Soviet forces battled their way toward the rail junction of Smela.

In White Russia, Soviet troops plodded steadily ahead through intermediate German defenses northwest of Gomel to capture several villages on the road to Zhlobin. Other Red army soldiers crossed the Pripet river to the south to capture Narovl, 14 miles east of Yelsk, Russian-held town on the Leningrad-Odessa railway, between Ovruch and Mozyr.

GOES ON WARPATH

PORTLAND, Ore.—Chief Beavermoon, full-blooded Indian, is on the warpath against the Japs. A fireman first class, USN, he wears four major engagement stars on his service ribbons. into southern France and the Balkans.

The British - American staff meeting was reported from the work of Anglo-American military leaders which the official communique said produced agreement on undetermined future operations." Thus the pattern of the war in Europe, as well as against Japan, already has been taken up.

The fact discussion of the second front resulted in argument was concrete evidence that all decisions regarding European invasion have not yet been made and that plans for it may be speeded to fit the Russian requirements.

Conclusions reached by Anglo-American military authorities doubtless included estimates of bomb damage inside Germany by the British-based aerial offensive.

All authoritative statements recently have been to the effect airpower alone would not be relied on to crush Germany. In line with that belief the allies have been massing invasion forces and boats in and around England for many months.

It has been assumed that unless airpower, along with German defeats in Russia, should suddenly crack German morale, this invasion force will be thrown across the channel when (1) it is fully prepared (2) Russian strategy is favorable and (3) weather conditions are right.

A means for further pressure on German morale may be found in a joint Roosevelt-Churchill-Stalin declaration to the German people telling them in plain terms what treatment they can expect if they surrender unconditionally and what death and destruction are in store if they do not.

DOLORES
VERNONWARE
By
VERNON KILNS
U. S. A.

Dolores, a good old Spanish name, popular in Los Angeles where Vernonware is made. It is one of the most distinctive of all Vernonware patterns, as well as the most popular, looking as fragile and feminine as the petal of a flower. Light in weight, satin-smooth in texture, it has the "luxury" touch. However, like all Vernonware, it is sturdy enough for constant daily use. The design is further enhanced by the beautiful shape designed by Royal Hickman, the noted ceramic designer of Swedish ware. The Dolores pattern, like all Vernonware, is guaranteed proof against crazing and durable enough to offer the utmost resistance to chipping and cracking. The entire design is under-glaze, so will never fade or wear off. With reasonable care a set of Dolores should serve you faithfully for many years to come.

Wings in the Rising Sun

TOKYO's [illegible] use of air power against [illegible] and [illegible] should be vastly extended [illegible] by the interest in the news from Berlin. Just as Germany's armed strength [illegible] amendment cuts in the war strategy of the Axis to prevent operations of the Allies, the experience now is revealing greater possibilities of air power against Japan. When Tokyo [illegible] Berlin will be history.

There are important differences, chiefly the absence of a base, or even a possible base, like England from which to launch an attack. But assuming that hand, air can be overcome perhaps by development of bombers with enormously increased flying range missing from independent of nearby bases, the Japanese must conclude that their 'rising sun' is destined to be blotted out with wings.

Their own aircraft industry, though admittedly stronger than it was believed to be at the outset of the war, still has shown no capacity for exceeding the skill or productivity of the German aircraft industry, which has not been able to stop the destruction of German cities, war plants and military installations. It is possible that with Germany knocked out of the war, the Japanese airplane industry would be unable to match in any category the machines being produced in the United States and Great Britain; the Japanese industry has been weakest in original designing. It has depended on German and United States originality for its planes.

Soldiers' Votes

IN THE scramble for soldiers' votes next year, both major parties seem to ignore the plain intent of the Constitution, which is to protect the authority of states over elections. Section 4, Article 1 says "the time, places and manner of holding elections for senators and representatives shall be prescribed in each state by the legislatures thereof; but the congress may at any time by law make or alter such regulations, except as to places of choosing senators." While there is no provision in the Constitution for a popular vote on the presidency, it prescribes the procedure for choosing electors, still nominally in use—and this procedure, also, is specified as a state responsibility.

Yet, in the face of the Constitution's specifications, congress is dealing with the problem of polling voters overseas as a federal matter. It has made no pretense of waiting for the states to originate their own method of handling the problem. In fact, it has seemed at times it was so engrossed in the possibilities of exploiting soldiers' votes for partisan advantage in one direction or the other that even the rights of the soldiers, themselves, were in danger of neglect. It is understandable why politicians are drooling over the potentialities of approximately 9,000,000 voting-age citizens in uniform next November, but it takes plenty of imagination to understand why the states suddenly should have lost their proprietary rights in the election process.

By Way of Comparison

AMONG German civilians suffering under the hail of Allied aerial bombardment there undoubtedly is the same courage and mutual helpfulness which marked the conduct of the British when they were being terrorized by Axis bombing in 1940 and 1941. But one thanks now, in the light of the German government's stern measures to maintain discipline among its people, of the British government's attitude when its people were in their darkest hours.

The British king and queen gained stature by visiting bombed-out areas and sympathizing with, not threatening, their countrymen. Prime Minister Churchill won popularity with his famous thumbs-up gestures. British morale was bolstered by existence of a common danger. The prestige of the government increased to the point where Mr. Churchill could offer the people a program of "blood, toil, sweat and tears" without apology. Discipline, instead of declining, was strengthened by the people's determination to rise above the terror. The people and their government found in danger new dignity and greater confidence in each other. When comparisons are being made in the effort to understand what the Allied aerial bombardment of Germany may produce, certainly the conduct of the German government furnishes a strong clue to its own estimate of its own security.

Russian Relations

[illegible] differences with [illegible] on the [illegible] and [illegible] openly.

A report which Donald Nelson made to the government upon his return from Moscow indicated the economic [illegible] which, of course is a [illegible] corollary of the political and military agreements, and perhaps the most important for the long run. Mr. Nelson is understood to have reported that Stalin (with whom he had a conference of one and one-half hours) envisaged a 20-year post-development and construction program for Russia for the [illegible] period.

For this, large quantities of American manufactured goods would be needed. He told Nelson he preferred our products to those of the British, or the Germans, some of which he received in his agreements with the Nazis before the war, and much of which his troops have captured on the fields of battle since.

Outlook Hopeful

Nor is he supposed to have said Russia would offer no serious competition to the United States in selling consumer goods, but that she could offer us certain raw materials in which we are lacking, such as manganese, tungsten etc.

How these extremely difficult matters will work out in the final settlement when they get down to details of course, cannot even be guessed now. But there is an exceptionally hopeful and friendly attitude toward Russia by the business element of the New Deal, such as Nelson ably represents, men who do not deal with the political aspects.

Today and Tomorrow

Cairo Declaration Seen as Important Basis for Planning Enduring World Peace.

By WALTER LIPPMANN

THE declaration of Cairo is a worthy confirmation of the view that the Moscow agreement inaugurated a genuine understanding.

The declaration is a commitment to destroy the modern Japanese empire and to confine the Japanese to the island territories which they possessed before their campaigns of conquest a half century ago. When the terms mentioned at Cairo have been put into effect Japan will cease to be a great power capable of waging aggressive war.

For the most part [illegible] Stalin could not be [illegible] the Cairo declaration. But he had [illegible] angered at Moscow [illegible] China, which is the great [illegible] of territory in the [illegible] ment, as one of the four principal guardians of the peace.

It is self-evident that Mr. Churchill and Roosevelt would not have discussed the terms of settlement in the Far East if they did not know that when they went on from their meeting with Chiang Kai-shek to the meeting with Stalin, the essentials would already have been [illegible] fully in Russian minds.

Solid Understanding

We have the best reason to conclude from evidence that has come to light in connection with the Moscow conference that the four great powers [illegible] are in substantial agreement. This provides the solid foundation for a concert of global strategy.

It is important [illegible] one of the main points of Allied policy is directed upon a [illegible] power in eastern Asia. The chief policy is Russia. For [illegible] dedication Pacific Pact, with the [illegible] of the Japanese people, the Russians intend to participate [illegible] of [illegible] with China.

This is not a new [illegible] for Soviet Russia. On the contrary, it has been the principle of Russian policy for the last [illegible] years, except in 1941, when Russia was most gravely threatened by the German-Japanese combination. The Russians were never willing to appease Japan at the expense of China.

The Russians signed a neutrality pact with Japan on April 13, 1941, two months before the German invasion, to avoid having to fight on two fronts. But even then the Russians refused to do what the Japanese asked them to do—to agree on the division of Asia at the expense of China into Russian and Japanese spheres of influence.

The Russian policy, like our own, like any other great policy in foreign affairs, rests finally not on sentiments of friendship, but on an enlightened conception of an enduring national interest. Russia, which will have a tremendous development in Siberia, needs peace on her Asiatic land frontiers and secure access to the Pacific ocean.

Guarantee of Peace

The friendship of a satisfied China and the exclusion of Japan from the mainland are the best guarantees of peace on her frontiers.

Since both China and Russia gain infinitely more in combination than they gain as rivals, the prospects of tranquility in eastern Asia are now good.

It is no less evident that Britain and America have acted in their own highest interests. Their primary interest is to perpetuate the alliance with Russia and China and never to let it be ruptured by differences over secondary matters. For on the perpetuation of this alliance depends whether or not this is the last great war for some generation at least.

But, in fact, the more solid the agreement of interest among the great powers the more statesmanship can be the solution of other problems. Take, for example, the problem of making the Philippines not only independent but secure. With Japan, the only heavy naval power, deprived of all the Pacific islands, and with China in Formosa and with Russia probably secure in Vladivostok, the defense of the Philippines can be organized as it was never organized before.

Basis for Agreements

Military agreements between China, the Philippines and the United States about naval and air bases in Formosa, largely military agreements by the British, the Dutch, the French, the Portuguese, the Russians, the Chinese and themselves, covering the whole basin of the Pacific, are now potentially and strategically feasible.

The nucleus of the coming order of things is set and is being added together. Around it there will cohere, not by abstractions, fusions and generalities, but by bonds of interest and reliability, ever larger numbers of nations until gradually but surely [illegible] is organized, not by force, but in fact for its own security.

Guard Against Sag in China
Morale Seen As Parley Result

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 — The three power proclamation assuring China restoration of all her lands stolen by Japan was believed here today to be a powerful counterblow against Japanese anti-western propaganda and a bulwark for any sag in Chinese morale.

Travelers recently returned from China said Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's position has become difficult because of fantastic economic troubles which are throwing Chinese life out of gear.

The Japanese, they said have seized upon the disillusionment of some Chinese for propaganda purposes.

The joint statement on territories in Chiang, President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill, coupled with assurance that decisions have been made for an all-out offensive against Japan is bound to strengthen Chiang's hand, in their opinion.

They explained the disappearance of consumer supplies has forced Chinese prices to rise to 120 times what they were in 1937 when the war with Japan exploded.

As a result, Liberal Chinese intellectuals and professionals who live mainly on fixed salaries and industrialists whose holdings were in occupied coastal areas have lost prestige in favor of plantation owners and bankers, less imbued with the spirit of western democracy.

Persons who have talked with the Generalissimo in Chungking said he probably asked Roosevelt and Churchill that:

1. War material be sent to China in quantity. This can not be delivered, they pointed out, until some sea-port affording direct communications with central China is opened to allied ships.

2. A goodly share of the equipment used to drive the Japanese into the sea be distributed to Chinese troops, so the soldiers who have been fighting Japan for over six years can be in the front ranks of the march to victory.

3. As soon as possible, large amounts of consumer goods and war materials be sent to China to alleviate the desperate supply situation and reduce inflation.

Scarred Fliers Aided To Comeback by The "Miracles" of Plastic Surgery

By DUDLEY ANN HARMON
United Press Correspondent

EAST GRINSTEAD, ENGLAND —An American flier comes to the Queen Victoria hospital here minus a nose—and goes out again with an even better looking one fashioned from his hip.

Men who have lost their eyelids —and weep constantly as a result —stop crying here, they're fitted with brand-new lids made from the inside skin of their arms.

Miracles of plastic surgery are taking place in this remote English village under the direction of New Zealander, Dr. Archibald H. McIndoe, who spent 10 years studying at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn. More than 7,000 operations have been performed since the hospital was opened four years ago. Americans, through the British War Relief Society, have just contributed $120,000 to build a new operating clinic. At the moment operations are carried out in the draughty children's ward.

Most of the patients here are men who've looked in the glass and said, "I'll never be able to work again or marry. I won't even be able to face other people."

Remedies Applied

Yet, after one or two operations they are amazed to find that they have enough confidence to go, always with another patient, to a factory, where they work in pairs. Some, awaiting further surgery, may have wire cages on the lower half of their faces instead of jaws. They may be facing 25 more operations extending over two years. Yet many have been offered postwar jobs by the factory management.

I fumbled for words when I saw the bandaged face of an American Fortress pilot, but he was cheerful.

"You should see the colored photographs taken when I arrived," he grinned. "I look a lot better now."

Fliers with green hands—green from burns—with blistered blackened faces, are given new skin. Half a missing hand is made out of thick skin from the stomach, a part of the body which has a good blood supply. New eyebrows are made from a patient's hair. Noses come from hips, because the hip is easy to get at and the skin easily carried. This hospital owes a great deal to an American physician, Dr. E. C. Padgett, Kansas City, Mo., who invented a skin-removing machine which slices flesh thinner than tissue paper.

No Curiosity Shown

Men go about town here in all stages of plastic surgery. Yet nobody stares. This quaint old village is in the front line of the war, the Battle of Britain was fought overhead and the people are used to war casualties. That's one reason it was selected as site of the hospital.

The nurses here are not only the best in their line, but the best-looking girls that can be found. At first authorities feared they might hesitate at sight of the patients. They not only nurse them, though —they marry them. There have been eight weddings since the hospital opened.

Flight Lt. Holebrook Mahn, Denver, Colo., not only found new legs here, but also a wife. He spent 14 days in a dinghy in the icy waters of the North Sea. Today he's engaged to the WAAF orderly who gave him his saline baths.

Cheerfulness Maintained

Somehow this hospital manages to be a cheery place. Patients share the same wards so they won't brood in solitude over their disfigurements. They roam the town, going to dances and drinking beer at the pub. An RAF sergeant lives with them as their father-confessor and, if necessary, their companion on binges. They can have beer in their mess and wear their regular uniforms instead of dreary "hospital blue." They play billiards and read, not discarded novels people have given away to clear their cupboards, but current best-sellers.

The leading plastic surgery center in Britain is a cheery place, with wide windows, fresh flowers and pretty girls.

Selectee To Appeal Court's Draft Ruling

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Dec. 2—Counsel for Orville Wood, 36-year-old Preble county farmer, indicated today they would appeal U. S. district Judge Robert Nevin's denial of a further postponement in Wood's induction into the armed forces.

Judge Nevin, in refusing yesterday to continue an injunction granted Nov. 26 which kept Wood from being inducted the next day, said congress had given selective service board's sole rights of classification and induction and that courts should not interfere.

A registrant believing he has a grievance should submit to induction and then "and only then" apply for a habeas corpus writ, the judge declared.

Wood's application for the original injunction claimed that he operated three farms and was entitled to deferment.

FIRE TAKEN TO FIREMEN

DENVER — Firemen couldn't reach this fire so they had the fire brought to them.

A caboose on a 90-car freight train caught fire as it was leaving the rail yards.

The fire department telephone operator realized the firemen couldn't reach the freight train promptly, because of intervening tracks, so he instructed the train crew to uncouple the caboose and shove it four blocks down a siding to a hydrant.

Within a matter of minutes a hose truck was at the hydrant, waiting for the fire to arrive.

Delaware Officer Wins Gen. Beightler's Praise

A Delaware Army officer, Lieut. Col. David R. Smith, has been given recognition by Major General Robert S. Beightler, commanding officer of the division to which he has been attached during the Southwest Pacific campaign, for having developed a method of treating battle casualties in casual camps near the front lines.

The system, developed through an experiment conducted by Lieut. Col. Smith, is credited with enabling hundreds of soldiers to remain with their division and return to front line duty in a minimum of time instead of being evacuated and replaced by other men. The citation came shortly after Col. Smith was forced by ill health to relinquish his post with the inspector general's office after 18 months of service in the Pacific. He is now in a military hospital and is scheduled to be returned to the United States.

Soil Agreements In Morrow Co. Approved

The supervisors of the Headwaters Soil Conservation District met at the court house at Mt. Gilead Monday and approved 13 farmer-district cooperative agreements, H. E. Hecker, district conservationist at Mt. Gilead, reported today. The names of the new farmer cooperators with the district are Mitchell Robertson, Chester Cooper, and Daisy and Paul Orsborn of Sparta; Guy Hildebrand, O. B. Losey and Hugh Worline, D. E. Nance, and Burr Grove, of Edison; C. W. Gordon, Benjamin L. Kirk, [illegible] of Mt. Gilead; Ralph Cardington of Cardington; Marion F. Shepard of Johnsville; and L. M. Thomas of Troy township.

Sixteen applications for assistance from the following farmers were also approved by the supervisors: T. A. Leppla of Fulton; Daniel Bates, Milo Pfeifer, Virgil Adams, Donald Carpenter, and Charlie F. Myers of Denmark; Edwin Saltz, Marengo; Forest Porter and Kenneth Throckmorton of Sparta; Francis Lyon of Edison; Ralph Hart, Roland F. Davis, J. F. Mosher, and H. H. Curl of Cardington; Herman Kraus and Waldo Hansen of Iberia.

A report on the recent farm planning school conducted at Denmark was made by Mr. Hecker.

A statewide meeting of soil conservation district supervisors in Ohio is scheduled for Friday, Dec. 10, in Columbus. Louis Bromfield, noted author and lecturer, will be the featured speaker. Supervisors from the headwaters district who are planning to attend include Harley Lepp, chairman, Lemuel D. Rinehart, secretary, Kenneth Throckmorton, treasurer, Paul B. Maxwell and C. A. Caldwell, members of the board.

"Neighborhood" Service Set at LaRue Church

Neighboring communities will be honored in the morning service of the LaRue Methodist church next Sunday. Rev. Warren H. Bright has announced that a roll call of the various neighborhoods will be made to determine which has the best representation of members and the best representation of new worshippers in the service. Rev. Bright will preach on the theme "What is a Good Neighbor?"

Cut in Meat Point Values Announced

The new point values that go into effect next week will mean that you are going to be able to get more meat for your brown stamps than at any time since rationing began, OPA officials at Columbus announced today. Nearly all beef items will be down two or three points and most of the price reductions in effect since Nov. 15 will continue.

The reason that OPA is able to reduce the point values of most of this time is that there is more meat available for civilians than there has been at any time since rationing began. It is estimated the increased supply is to amount to nearly 30 per cent. However, OPA warns, that meat supplies will be smaller next spring which may result in boosting ration points in January and February.

Try This Old Home-Mixed Cough Relief. Surprising!

Child Could Make It. No Cooking. Big Saving.

You may not know it, but, in your own kitchen, you can easily prepare a really surprising relief for coughs due to colds. It's old-fashioned—your mother probably used it—but for real results, it can't be beaten.

First, make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup. No cooking needed. It's no trouble.

Then get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. This is a special compound of proven ingredients in concentrated form, well known for prompt action in those alarming coughs.

Put the Pinex into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. Thus you make a full pint of really splendid cough syrup and you get about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and children love its pleasant taste.

And for quick relief, it's a wonder. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, eases the soreness, and makes breathing easy. If not pleased, your money will be refunded.

Deodorizes as it cleans . . . instantly! Effervescent—bubbles diet away—leaves fresh minty fragrance. Costs no more than ordinary cleaners.

DO YOU WANT AN ESSENTIAL OCCUPATION WITH A POST-WAR FUTURE?

We need a number of men for permanent positions as "mechanical tabulating equipment mechanics"—officially defined by Selective Service headquarters as an essential occupation.

WE are a large, well-established manufacturer of office machines and equipment. Our entire production is going to war manufacturers and government bureaus. We urgently need men who are mechanically minded—not necessarily with mechanical experience—to keep these essential office machines operating at top speed in war plants and government offices. We teach you everything you need to know about the machines, and we pay you a salary while you are learning. The positions are permanent, with excellent opportunities for advancement.

YOU are a man with a knack for mechanical work, even though you may not be using that knack at present. You are a high-school graduate and U. S. citizen. The armed forces have passed you by, and will continue to do so. You are not doing war work now. You are ambitious, loyal, a good worker, eager to get ahead.

YOU AND WE should get together. Write us a brief confidential letter, telling us about yourself. Give us also your age and phone number. Write today if the secret conference was global rather than strictly Far Eastern in character.

A reliable source—reporters were barred from proceeding—indicated the American and British general staffs probably had decided details for a new offensive against Europe, as well as details of Mediterranean and Middle East affairs.

The question of the Balkans also was discussed, it was reported. One official observer reported Mediterranean affairs were the first subject of the biggest military meeting of the conference.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower presided at this conference, it was said, and it was believed not only the present campaign in Italy was reviewed, but also future possibilities, including a possible Balkans campaign in which Soviet leaders are interested.

Only one real vestige of the conference, outside of newspapermen, remained when the official communique was released last night. It was disclosed the senior American war planning group met yesterday and held a joint conference with their British opposite numbers.

There was a secret of the conference's purposes as regards Japan, for the official communique asserted "the several military missions have agreed upon future military operations" against her, and "the three great allies are fighting this war to restrain and punish the aggression of Japan."

All To Be Taken Away

Japan will be thrown out of all territories which she has taken by violence and greed," the communique added.

(By this, Japan's possessions would be sliced from areas of some 3,000,000 square miles and 500,000,000 population to some 142,000 square miles and wholly Japanese population of 75,000,000).

Military leaders participating included Lord Louis Mountbatten, allied commander-in-chief in southeast Asia; General Stilwel, and Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault, U. S. air force commander in China.

Significantly also, it was learned Gen. Douglas MacArthur's chief-of-staff, Maj. Gen. Richard K. Sutherland, attended, thus bringing in MacArthur's Southwest Pacific command.

The controversial issue of "island hopping" to strike at Japan, to which MacArthur is opposed, was discussed thoroughly, a British source reported.

The conference brought together 201 British experts, more than 100 Americans, and 20 Chinese.

Although the communique was confined purely to the Far East, when the overall picture of the conference is seen it becomes clear while Churchill and Roosevelt doubtless laid plans for increasing the war upon Japan, they and their military and naval chiefs never lost sight of the German enemy.

Ambassadors Present

Besides the reported discussion of a new invasion of Europe and Balkan matters there were these other indications of the global nature of these talks:

The active presence of the American and British ambassadors to Moscow, W. Averell Harriman and Sir Archibald Clark Kerr, could not escape notice.

Perhaps equally noteworthy was the participation of Laurence A. Steinhardt, U. S. ambassador to Turkey and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, who conferred here after the Moscow parley with Turkish Foreign Minister Numan Menemencioglu.

A British source said the principal problems submitted by the Chinese were: combined strategy for the Pacific, Southeast Asia, and China theaters for quick defeat of Japan; reopening the Burma road by an offensive from India; urgent supplies for the Chinese armies and people, and post-war reconstruction in China.

Main issues, listed by this same source, on the American-British side were:

1. Taking the sea-air offensive to Japan's very gates.
2. Avoiding local operations, such as "island hopping."
3. Broader liaison among staffs in future strategy.
4. Problems of troop and supply transport.
5. Increasing the power of the Pacific air offensive.

The conference was, as a representative of President Roosevelt described it, an "open secret." Heavily-armed soldiers and barbed wire guarded the conference area—still identified only as "in North Africa"—and newspaper correspondents were not allowed to see even one of the principals in the drama.

President Roosevelt came by air, Monday morning, Nov. 22, as did Generalissimo and Mrs. Chiang Kai-shek. Churchill came by sea Sunday evening Nov. 21.

It was the eighth meeting of President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill. Neither had met Chiang before.

The discussions of the three war leaders were said to have been carried on in a most cordial atmosphere.

REPORTED SAFE. Lt. Gertrude Lawson of Vandergrift, Pa., Army flying nurse, who was considered lost with 12 other nurses, four line officers and 12 enlisted men in a transport plane missing since Nov. 2 between Algiers and Bari, Italy, is now reported safe with all her companions in Allied territory.

Here Is Statement on Parley Results

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2—The text of the communique issued in North Africa after the conference of President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and President Chiang Kai-shek and their staffs follow:

"President Roosevelt, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and Prime Minister Churchill, together with their respective military and diplomatic advisers, have completed a conference in North Africa.

"The several military missions have agreed upon future military operations against Japan. The three great Allies expressed their resolve to bring unrelenting pressure against their brutal enemies by sea, land and air. This pressure is already rising.

"The three great Allies are fighting this war to restrain and punish the aggression of Japan.

"They covet no gain for themselves and have no thought of territorial expansion.

"It is their purpose that Japan shall be stripped of all the islands in the Pacific, which she has seized or occupied since the beginning of the first World war in 1914, and that all the territories Japan has stolen from the Chinese, such as Manchuria, Formosa, and the Pescadores, shall be restored to the Republic of China. Japan also will be expelled from all other territories which she has taken by violence and greed.

"The aforesaid three great powers, mindful of the enslavement of the people of Korea, are determined that in due course Korea shall become free and independent.

"With these objects in view the three Allies, in harmony with those of the United Nations at war with Japan, will continue to persevere in the serious and prolonged operations necessary to procure the unconditional surrender of Japan."

tions and wire entanglements left in their path by the enemy.

The town of Rocca San Giovanni, two miles inland from the Adriatic and more than four miles beyond the Sangro was overrun in Montgomery's "rolling crack" at the Nazis across battlefields littered with Nazi guns and great quantities of smashed equipment.

In addition to more than 1,000 ablebodied prisoners already counted, Montgomery's headquarters announced the Germans left behind many dead and large numbers of wounded now being treated in British hospitals.

The entire Sangro ridge from Fossacesia to Romagnoli is now in allied hands after "heavy fighting," the allied communique said.

Eight miles inland, the Germans still fought desperately to retain the town of Castel Frentano.

Farther inland, dispatches said, Eighth army units pierced German defenses and were "very near" the important town of Orsogna, 14 miles from the Adriatic on the road which has been the enemy's chief supply route behind the Sangro line.

The Nazis rushed also three fresh units into the Fifth army front at the western end of the line. It was disclosed that the 34th American infantry division is with the Fifth army of Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark.

United States troops who before dawn yesterday beat back enemy counterattacks in the hilly country guarding the mountain block to the main road to Rome took prisoners from the German 44th infantry division.

The 44th is the eleventh German division now known to be in action in Italy—a total of approximately 165,000 men.

American Flying Fortresses carried out a heavy raid yesterday against the Fiat ball bearing works at Turin in northern Italy.

The Navy communique said American PT boats clashed with German E boats near Barletta Monday night, damaging one and probably damaging others.

In other air operations, small numbers last night bombed railyards in the Po valley area.

Three enemy planes were shot down, probably and five others destroyed.

FORMER MARION WOMAN STRICKEN NEAR EDISON

Mrs. Mary H. Betz Dies; Rites To Be Held Friday.

Mrs. Mary H. Betz, 73, a resident of Marion for 52 years, died at 12:30 a. m. today at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. E. Hoffmaster, two miles south of Edison where she had made her home for the last year. A heart ailment and complications resulting from a broken right hip three months ago today, caused her death.

Mrs. Betz was born in Athens county and spent most of her life there. She celebrated her 50th birthday and had lived until Christmas day. Her husband, Amasa Betz, died in 1930. She was a member of the Christian church for 50 years and attended the Central Christian church in Marion for 20 years.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. M. H. Sheaks of Herman street, Mrs. Dewey Howell of Gallon road and Mrs. Hollanshead, and a son, J. A. Courtney of Detroit; a step-daughter, Mrs. A. C. Peoples of East Center street; 13 grandchildren, 15 great-grandchildren, two great-great-grandchildren, and one brother, G. D. Norman of Lucas.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at the Hollansbead home, with Rev. Eldred W. Johnston, pastor of Central Christian church officiating. Services will be held at 1 p. m. Saturday in the chapel at the cemetery in Athens followed by burial at that place.

First Inkling of Ordnance Plant Plans Came in March of 1942, Starting Field Day for Marion Rumor Experts

Likens Cemetery, for months a big problem to Scioto builders, is shown above. After completing arrangements to move it, the Army decided to leave it untouched.

This is the second of a series of articles reviewing the history of the Scioto Ordnance Plant, now in the final stages of being closed as an ordnance manufacturing point. The series deals not only with the plant, its development and operation, but with community activities related to the plant and the effect its establishment in Marion county had on lives of residents of Marion and nearby communities.

By BOB BYRD

The chronological history of the Scioto Ordnance Plant probably could reach back to March 1942, when Congressman [illegible] Washington said he had been informed by the war department that it planned to build a plant in Ohio to cost in excess of $5,000,000. Although this was the first official announcement of plans, there already had been much preliminary work and land acquisition representatives indicate that "something big" was in store for Marion county.

Naturally, the conjecture and talk about what the plant would be started a wave of publication and rumors that reached fantastic proportions. If some of the rumors had materialized the nation would have been fortified on every side by big military installations and air bases. It would have been considered as a military center of great importance. These rumors, which spread almost overnight, ranged across some [illegible] fell were given a little credence, because most persons felt a big concentration of military installations would make a target for enemy bombers that were flooding Europe with bombs. The army could create housing needs beyond reasonable

A local wag took advantage of the wave of rumors to start his own—his approach something like this: You heard they're going to build a big hotel up at the [illegible]. When the unsuspecting subject of his inquiry answered in the negative, he crashed, "Yeah, I know—to accommodate all of the rumors."

Even when Lieut. Col. John Huling Jr., first commander of Scioto, arrived in Marion on March 18, accompanied by Capt. H. D. L. Van Bockern and Lieut. R. P. Campbell of the area engineer's office, any substantial news of what was to come was smothered in military secrecy. They quietly opened offices where the Marion county ration offices are located at State and Center streets. About the same time, men and machinery of the Hunkin-Conkey Construction Co. and of Holabird & Root, architect-engineers, arrived. Offices were opened downtown. Holabird & Root taking the Schwinger hall annex and the Hunkin-Conkey Co. the building at Main and George streets.

The Boom Was On

Workers were hired by the hundred, labor union activity went into a boom period, Marion was flooded by requests for sleeping rooms for construction workers and whole truckloads of workers from the hills of Kentucky overran boarding houses.

Despite the sudden swirl of activity, casual Marion observers thought things moved slowly. They did at first because all of the big 12,000-acre undertaking had to be put on paper before construction work was begun. Houses on the site had to be moved or dismantled. New roads need to be built, railroad lines put in and a thousand details looked after before large-scale construction work could begin. Mammoth pieces of grading machinery first swung into action, and gradually the big layout began to take shape.

In April, one of the sore thumbs for the builders — the Likens cemetery — was causing much discussion, and it was decided to move it to the Kirkpatrick cemetery. After all arrangements were made, a later decision was made against moving it. Persons with relatives buried there were permitted to visit the graves on certain occasions, under escort.

Mid-April also brought more news—that the U. S. Rubber Co. was to operate the plant for the ordnance department. A group of rubber company officials including J. M. Lavelmore, the present factory manager, came here on April 14 and from that time made ready to take over the plant as soon as it was ready for operation.

First Sign of Shrinkage

By May, it apparently was becoming evident to high officials that the plant might not reach its projected employment figures for on May 18 the War Production Board in Washington refused to allow materials for three and a half miles of highway improvements on state and federal routes approaching the plant. This program was to have cost $185,800, but never materialized.

The construction workers came from all over the country, and organized their own recreational activities including bowling groups, a music group and a drama society. The plant workers maintained a weekly newspaper for several months, held golf outings, had softball teams and otherwise made themselves at home in Marion.

The "Big Four" of those days were Col. Huling as commanding officer, Major Robert Lockridge, area engineer supervising the construction work for the Army Engineers, S. E. Hunkin of the Hunkin-Conkey Co. and J. Z. Burgee, a Holabird & Root partner.

Early in the construction period a fleet of 80 automobiles and pickup trucks were used in the motor pool, a number that probably reached a considerably higher level during the peak period.

By the middle of June there were approximately 2,900 workers getting a weekly payroll of around $137,000. At the peak of construction, some 7,000 were employed at the plant.

Community Helps

Marion felt a surge of responsibility toward its newcomers, and busied itself with some of the problems. There were conferences on housing and finally a housing center was set up in charge of Grover C. Snyder. There was a federal conversion program to remodel large houses into multiple living units. There was a surge of house building activity that resulted in dozens of new homes, many of them doubles, being built. Rent ceilings became a real problem with renters offering to pay "almost any price" for a place to live, before the federal government set up a rent control office here a local committee had taken the situation in hand and held weekly hearings in the common pleas courtroom, using public opinion as virtually its only authority as it ground out unofficial justice to dozens of landlords and renters. Then came plans for the trailer camp on West Fairground street a project that was many times delayed and which finally got ready for business just about the time it wasn't needed. Conse-

Tomorrow's final article on the Scioto Ordnance Plant history will deal with the plant's effect on the community and will list the commanding officers who have served the plant.

Army Brands Prisoners "Yellow," Senator Claims

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 — Senator Chavez (D-NM) asserted yesterday the war department, by opposing by law an act giving promotions in rank for American prisoners of war unfavorably branded as "yellow bellies" some of our soldiers captured in the Pacific.

He said the department, in a letter signed by the secretary of war, opposed the bill because there is no way to determine if some men surrendered in Guam, Wake and the Philippines "under circumstances under which they might reasonably have been expected to continue to resist."

"The implication that those boys quit of their volition is beyond comprehension," Chavez told the senate military affairs committee. "They quit when General Wainwright quit. They had no choice. Of course they surrendered but it wasn't their fault."

Chavez is the author of a bill—opposed also by the Navy secretary—to permit promotions in rank for men now held as prisoners.

Hearing Held on Morrow Co. Ditch Improvement

Farmers whose land is drained by the Ewers Ditch in Gilead and Canaan townships in Morrow county met last Friday in Mt. Gilead to go over the results of the survey made by the headwaters soil conservation district. Recommendations for correcting drainage in the townships were prepared by J. D. Parson, engineering specialist, whose assistance has been requested for those farmers by the headwaters district. Owners of the land affected by the Ewers ditch include S. G. Hildebrand, Flora Hildebrand, Ray O. Kelly, D. H. Stolls, and Elizabeth McCarty.

There were 3,155 West Point men serving in World War I.

BRITISH SUSTAIN DRIVE UP COAST. Solid arrows indicate British Eighth army approach to Lanciano on the Adriatic seacoast and British-American Fifth army advance west of Montaquila detailed by allied headquarters. Broken arrows are apparent routes each is attempting to follow to form what ultimately may be a pincers assault on Rome.

Carl Danner Elected Trustee of Ohio Group

Carl Danner of the Danner Buick Co. was elected a trustee of the Ohio Automobile association at its annual meeting in Columbus Tuesday. As a trustee of the organization Mr. Danner represents dealers in Marion, Hardin, Morrow and Wyandot counties. Approximately 700 dealers from all parts of the state attended the two-day convention held in the Neil House. Others from Marion attending the sessions besides Mr. Danner were John Glackin, Glenn Walraven and Paul Hoch.

HOSPITAL GUARD FINED

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Dec. 2—Municipal Judge Louis Petrash convicted Leon Booth, 50, of Lima of beating a patient at the Cleveland state hospital, where Booth formerly was employed as a guard. Judge Petrash fined Booth $50 and costs and sentenced him to 60 days in the workhouse, but suspended 40 of the days and put Booth on probation for a year.

NEPTUNE'S BREW SAVED

By The Associated Press

LONDON — British soldiers fired on Japanese bombers with extraordinary vigor during a raid on Ceylon. They feared not for themselves but for a British ship in the harbor with a precious cargo—beer. Alas, the ship received a direct hit. As the thousands of bottles of beer went to the bottom, the spirit of these thirsty Tommies sank too. But Royal Navy divers came to the rescue and salvaged the cargo. The Tommies had to wait a long time for their "Neptune's brew," as they called it. But it tasted mighty good.

Waterless Glasses

By H. W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Scieno Editor

PHILADELPHIA — Frankford Arsenal ordnance department experts have developed a method of preventing binoculars from fogging.

At times binoculars become useless because moisture from the air condenses inside. It is a frequent risk in conditions of high humidity in the tropics.

The solution is a chemical sponge, a small plug of a substance which absorbs moisture. Certain chemicals, like silica gel, are able to absorb large amounts of water. A plug made of one of these materials, the ordnance department reports, is enough to protect a pair of binoculars for several years. Plugs have been designed so that they can be replaced in the field without disassembling the binoculars.

Brer Rabbit Milk Shake
RICH IN IRON AND CALCIUM

BOTH children and grown-ups enjoy the smacking good flavor of Brer Rabbit Milk Shake. And this delicious drink is rich in calcium and iron. Milk for calcium . . . molasses for iron—the same delicious, inexpensive Brer Rabbit Molasses you use for baking.

To make Brer Rabbit Milk Shake, mix one tablespoon of Brer Rabbit Molasses with a glass of milk.

Scientific tests have shown Brer Rabbit is second only to liver as a rich food source of iron the body can use. Three tablespoons supply about one-third of a child's minimum daily requirements.

A DELICIOUS TABLE MOLASSES

GOLD LABEL Brer Rabbit Molasses is the highest quality, fancy, light-colored molasses—sweet and mild in flavor. Especially delicious as a spread on pancakes, waffles, bread and cereals. A tablespoonful added to a glass of cold or warm milk makes a delicately flavored milk shake rich in iron and calcium. Also recommended for cooking where a mild flavor is desired.

To meet taste preferences, Brer Rabbit Molasses comes in two flavors: Gold Label—light, mild-flavored; Green Label—dark, full-flavored.

STIMSON REPORTS ON WAR CASUALTIES

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2—Secretary of War Stimson reported today American Army casualties from the beginning of the war to Nov. 15 were 91,918, bringing the total announced casualties for all branches of the armed forces to 126,969.

Casualties reported by the Navy department for the Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard to date—except for preliminary reports announced yesterday from the recent operations in the Gilbert islands—total 32,051, of which 13,160 were killed, 5,740 wounded, 8,926 missing and 4,225 prisoners of war.

Stimson told a news conference the Army total included 14,321 killed, 32,699 wounded, 23,417 prisoners of war and 24,490 missing in action. Of the Americans officially listed as prisoners, 1,610 have died in prison camps, mostly in Japanese-occupied territory, he reported.

Stimson announced that American Army casualties in Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's Fifth Army from the beginning of operations on the Italian mainland to date total 11,572, of whom 1,811 were killed, 7,091 wounded and 2,670 missing. Casualties of British elements in the Fifth Army have been somewhat smaller, he said.

The Navy supplied these figures making up the 32,051-total in the Navy-Marine Corps-Coast Guard:

Navy—10,603 killed, 3,001 wounded, 8,248 missing and 2,276 prisoners of war; total 24,188.

Marine Corps—2,181 killed; 2,666 wounded, 637 missing and 1,948 prisoners of war; total, 7,427.

Coast Guard—316 killed, 78 wounded, 41 missing and one prisoner of war; total 436.

take at least two years to win the Pacific war.

Happy as the repatriates were to see the statue of liberty and their homeland again, they expressed concern over the estimated 6,000 Americans, many of them children, still held in Japanese internment camps.

Frank W. Weber of Wapakoneta, O., a credit manager for the Standard Oil Co., who went to China in 1916, said conditions at Camp Pooding, where he was interned, "were not too bad as prison camps go, with food rather inadequate." His three children, born in China, and his wife returned to this country in 1940.

Kin Admits He Killed McCoy

JAMES W. COLLETT

payment of a debt, that he and McCoy quarreled in the barn, McCoy struck him with a club and reached for a pistol.

Thereupon, "I grabbed up a gun from a nail tie (corn timber) and shot him in the back . the next thing I knew I was on my way home."

The body of Mrs. McCoy, shot at least six times, was found the next morning on a screened porch of their home; that of Miss McCoy, a school teacher at Pitsburg High school, lay near her automobile 50 feet from the house.

A few hours later Collett and his wife—McCoy's sister—arrived in reply to a Thanksgiving dinner invitation and he expressed astonishment over the slayings, Sheriff Icenhower said.

Following the funeral last Saturday, Mrs. Collett was appointed to help administer her brother's estate, valued at approximately $70,000.

Sheriff Icenhower and Prosecutor Hill planned to return to Washington C. H. Friday, but indicated Collett would not be taken back immediately because of feeling in the community.

Hill said Collett consented to the lie detector test after questioning at Washington C. H. failed to shake his alibi.

The prosecutor said he was questioned here by Arthur Eggert, superintendent of the Toledo police criminal laboratory.

Hill quoted Collett as saying the quarrel between him and McCoy stemmed from a deed under which McCoy's mother gave him and Mrs. Collett jointly the 166-acre farm on which the McCoys had lived for years, together with other property upon her death last April.

Confession Statement

The confession stated:

"I left home about 7 p. m. and drove to Harveysburg, O., and from there drove to Elmer McCoy's home thinking I could make some arrangements about my wife's share of her mother's rent money.

"I arrived at the McCoy home at about 8:30 p. m. and drove in the barnyard and parked near the house. At the same time Elmer McCoy drove into the barnyard and parked near the barn.

"Elmer and I saw each other and walked into the barn discussing my wife's share of her mother's rent money, thinking we could all get together the next day and make some arrangements for a settlement.

"Elmer became very angry and picked up a club or tool handle and swung at me but missed me and at the same time reached for his gun.

"Then I grabbed up a gun from the nail tie and shot him in the back. He fell between the feed grinder and the weatherboard inside the barn. The next thing I knew I was on my way home."

Mrs. Collett, advised her husband had confessed killing her brother, said

"If he did it he must have been crazy at the time."

The white-haired man was brought here from Washington C. H. Wednesday morning.

In the late afternoon the prosecutor told newsmen

"A definite break has occurred in the case. The suspect in custody has deeply incriminated himself by his statement."

Two hours later the confession was announced.

During questioning at Washington C. H., the prosecutor said, Collett insisted he had a "lapse of memory" and could not account for his whereabouts between 7:30 p. m. and 10:30 p. m. last Wednesday. The killings were timed at about 9 p. m.

Throughout, Collett held to the story he had gone to a small community that night, had greeted a barber friend and had purchased some farm implements. This was found to be true, the prosecutor said, but he added Collett had not returned home at the hour he claimed.

News of Confession Shocks Community

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON C. H., O., Dec. 2—The news of James W. Collett's confession that he killed Elmer McCoy shocked residents of this community.

The Washington C. H. Record-Herald got out an "extra" which sold 100 copies in three minutes.

McCoy neighbors recalled Collett's behavior when he arrived at the McCoy farm Thanksgiving day, ostensibly unaware his brother-in-law, sister-in-law and niece had been slain. He told one group:

"That's too bad. I had their Christmas presents all bought and laid away. I got Mildred (the niece) the nicest present I had ever bought for her."

In Wilmington, Clinton county seat where Collett was born, the News-Journal also issued an "extra" which was the first intimation some of his friends had that he was the suspect being questioned.

In the village of Kingman, in the northeast corner of the county, where Collett operated his 82-acre farm and bred registered Berkshire hogs, fellow Grange members read the confession and recalled that last Wednesday night—when the McCoys were slain—he had missed his first Grange meeting in three years.

Dr. Neil Myers, veterinarian, recalled how Collett called to inquire about treatment for a horse. Collett said he called between 8:30 p. m. and 9 p. m. Dr. Myers said it was around 10 or 10:30 p. m.

Kingman friends said Collett was active in Grange, lodge and church work.

Near the Collett home lives their son and only child, Thomas, with his wife and little daughter, Sue Ann.

Farmers living near the McCoy farm were relieved. Many of them had told Sheriff W. H. Icenhower they feared to be alone around their outbuildings at night this week.

Collett's Family Disbelieve Story

By The Associated Press

KINGMAN, O., Dec. 2 — The wife and son of James Collett asserted today they did not believe he murdered Elmer McCoy, his wealthy Washington C. H. brother-in-law, despite Collett's announced confession.

"We can't believe it," said 29-year-old Thomas Collett at his home in this Clinton county farming community. "No one has ever done as much for a son as my dad."

Young Collett termed as absurd that part of his father's purported confession which attributed the motive of the slaying to an argument over money affairs.

"The families never had any argument over money," he declared. "How could there be an argument over $15,000 rental when my grandmother only died in April."

(Prosecutor John B. Hill said Collett confessed the slaying of McCoy occurred after an argument over $15,000 in back rent Collett claimed due his wife for a farm deeded jointly to McCoy and Mrs. Collett by their mother, and used by McCoy.)

Newsman Describes Ride with Collett

Arthur S. Bostwick, an Associated Press staff writer who has [illegible] assigned [illegible] mainly with [illegible] mystery, accompanied James W. Collett to Toledo yesterday and was on hand [illegible] when the Clinton county farmer finally confessed slaying [illegible] brother-in-law [illegible] Kingman. Collett is in the county jail charged with murder.

By ARTHUR S. BOSTWICK

TOLEDO, O., Dec. 2—The little fellow in the high-crowned hat with whom I shared the intimacy of a flivver's rear seat through yesterday's post-midnight hours turned out to be—said Prosecutor John B. Hill—a confessed slayer.

Slight, grizzled James W. Collett, Hill announced, "finally broke" under day-long questioning while harnessed voluntarily to a lie detector and confessed he shot to death his brother-in-law, Elmer McCoy, who resided near Washington C. H.

Almost Jaunty on Arrival

Despite a sleepless night, Collett almost was jaunty as we arrived at 7:20 a. m. in Sheriff W. H. Icenhower's automobile. His only display of nervousness was a repeated suggestion near the journey's end that we stop for a cup of coffee.

He had his coffee and a heaping bowl of cereal also in the Toledo safety building restaurant.

The five-foot-five Clinton county farmer rode out 175 miles from Washington C. H. almost bolt upright.

His conversation was mostly staccato remarks about the weather, towns through which we passed—and an occasional quick query as to how long he might remain in Toledo.

He was not a cheerful companion and once, when this reporter dozed for a 15-mile stretch, he chided me.

Chewed a Stogie

He smoked and chewed a slender stogie cigar tilted upward in his mouth. His hands rested folded in his lap and moved little.

His high-riding hat was slightly askew.

James Collett, who believed his seat partner was wanted for questioning for trafficking in checks that bounce, was more reflective than communicative.

He was quietly tense, appearing older even than his 60 years.

Silhouetted against the car window, the bolt-upright little fellow in the high-brown hat presented a figure that would have been amusing had it not been so tragic.

OFFICERS ELECTED BY POLICE LODGE

L. E. Reardon Named President of County F.O.P. Group

Annual election of officers of the Marion County Lodge No. 24 Fraternal Order of Police, was held Wednesday night when L. E. Reardon named as president. Other officers elected were: M. B. Tatnam, first vice president; Alfred Konbarger, second vice president; Homer Osmun, secretary and treasurer; Carey Kannel and Paris Romine tied for the office of conductor; Henry Tong, guard and Harry Smith, trustee.

Installation will be held Jan. 5. In addition to the monthly contribution of $5 to the Marion Service Canteen it was decided to fill 25 Christmas stockings with sweets to be distributed by the canteen. Harry Smith, Henry Tong and Lowell Messenger were appointed to supervise the arrangements.

PACIFIC

Washington as a powerful counter-blow against Japanese anti-western propaganda.

Informed Washington observers expressed opinion the Pacific strategy called first for recapture of Singapore and the Philippines to obviate dependence on the Burma road which was held inadequate to keep supplies rolling for a major offensive in China.

Japs Weakened

In the current battle sphere, Japan appeared weakened at two southwestern Pacific points. American light naval craft shelled enemy bases at Gasmata, New Britain, and Madang, New Guinea, both already hard hit by allied aircraft. Bombers dropped 28 tons of explosives on Cape Gloucester, New Britain.

Meanwhile, aerial reports covering activity for a week of operations in General Douglas MacArthur's command disclosed not a single interception by Japanese planes.

In New Delhi, American authorities declared Rangoon, Burma, was undoubtedly on the way to becoming useless to the Japanese as the result of raids by the 10th American air force.

Japanese bases on Bougainville, northern Solomons, came under renewed attack by American planes, but there was no word of the ground fighting there nor any confirmation of the Tokyo report of New American landings.

M. O. H. Class Members Select New Officers

Mrs. Floyd Duffey, Mrs. Kenneth Connolly and Mrs. William Pride were hostesses when the M. O. H. class of the Prospect Street Methodist church met for a business and social meeting Tuesday night in the church parlors. The following were elected officers: Miss Mary Ellen Kerr, president; Miss Lillian Hankel, vice president; Miss Ruth Schott, secretary and Miss Virginia Ruth, treasurer. It was voted to help two families in need at Christmas time. Devotions were conducted by Miss Marion Gooding. Contests were won by Miss Ruth Schott, Miss Gooding and Miss Virginia Ruth. Hostesses for a Christmas meeting Dec. 28 will be Miss Lillian Hankel and Mrs. Adeline Heclo.

Officers Selected By Forest Lawn Men's Club

Members of the Men's club of Forest Lawn Presbyterian church met in the community house Monday night for election of officers and program in which James Reed, Marion county prosecuting attorney, spoke on a number of cases he has handled in court recently. In the election Charles Bowers was named president, Charles Armbruster, vice president and Earl Moore, secretary-treasurer. Rev. J. A. Carriker led devotions and Mr. Armbruster, James O'Dowd and Earl Smothers were in charge of the session. A committee appointed to arrange for a meeting Dec. 27 included Mr. Bowers, Mr. Armbruster, Ed Walker, Jack Uniand and Mr. Moore.

Harding Basketball Tickets Go On Ration Basis Again; 250 Available

Again that year it will be necessary to ration tickets for Harding High school's home basketball games played in the Edison Junior High school gymnasium, Principal Albert C. May announced today.

The announcement was made as tickets were placed on sale for the President's initial game of the season with Delaware Wills here tomorrow night.

A total of 250 tickets will be available for the opening game and subsequent home games of the Harding team, Mr. May said, with 100 allotted for Marion adult followers, 100 for Harding students and 50 for the visiting team.

Of the 100 adult tickets 75 will be on sale at Markert & Lewis on East Center street and the remaining 25 will be on sale at the high school.

Tickets not disposed of at either Markert & Lewis or the high school or by the visiting team will be on sale at the Edison gym at game time. However, school officials emphasized it usually is not necessary to conduct a ticket sale at the gym because normally the 250 available tickets are readily purchased by Harding fans and followers of the visiting team.

Cairo Conference Marks Finish of One World Empire

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The allied pact of Cairo regarding Japan marks a major upheaval in world history.

It means that a powerful empire is to be wiped out. It means that the relationships among the nations of the Orient are to be wholly realigned—that we are, in fact, to have a new Orient.

There is perhaps a tendency to lose something of the full significance of the Roosevelt-Churchill-Chiang Kai-shek conference, because of the elaborate secrecy and drama with which it has been surrounded. Still, in its own right this declaration, which has forged in the shadow of the great pyramids and the Sphinx of Gizeh in the ageless sands of Egypt, must stand as one of the momentous decisions of all time.

We see here clear evidence of the determination to make this global conflict a war which will in truth tend towards the Utopian goal of ending all wars.

These three major allies in the war against Japan—Russia, of course, isn't fighting Nippon—have taken the grim stand that the Japanese empire is to be rendered impotent to make further war. She is to be shorn of her ill-got gains and thus is to be reduced from the status of a first class power to that of a minor island kingdom. In the process she is to be stripped of all her mandated islands and the many territories which she has taken by force over a period of half a century.

Action Already Started

In order to achieve this historic change, the allied war machine in the Orient already has swung into action to "bring unrelenting pressure" against the Japs. In reaching their decisions, Messrs. Roosevelt, Churchill and Chiang Kai-shek were surrounded by one of the greatest aggregations of military and political experts to attend such a conference.

Our Commodore Perry in 1854 brought Japan into the modern world. Since then she has steadily aimed to make herself the dominant figure of Asia, employing militaristic aggression with increasing frequency. Now we are in process of shoving her back where she belongs.

Word that the oriental war-mill is beginning to grind at high speed is of the greatest importance. Dispatch is essential, for China is dangerously weak in her resources—virtually without military equipment, if we would be exact. She must be rearmed so that she may fling her great manpower against the Jap armies. That means reopening routes into China so that allied supplies can reach her—Burma, the back door, for one.

One wonders whether the Cairo conference got any further than these sweeping fundamentals. Perhaps not, for this is the time for action and not for talk of distant details affecting a grave new world which hasn't yet been created.

Various European reports have it that the three great men of the Cairo conference have now proceeded to Teheran, the Persian capital, which is the aerial gateway to Russia, to meet with Marshal Stalin in another conclave that will consider the other half of our global war—the European conflict. If this is so, one would expect that there the idea will prevail of sticking largely to the fundamental operations necessary to achieve a quick victory over the Hitlerites.

Question of Second Front

What will this involve? I should say that most certainly it will polish off the question of opening up that second front in France at the earliest possible moment. Here, as in the case of China, speed is the password to early victory.

Naturally there are many conjectures as to what the Big Four will talk about. One is that Roosevelt, Stalin and Churchill will give the German people a definition of what is meant by the unconditional surrender which the allies demand. Some think that the German public also may be called on to throw Hitler and his gang out.

Certainly some of the immediate problems of handling a post-war Germany would seem bound to come up. For instance, you've got to have very definite ideas about what you're going to do the day that the reich capitulates.

When all's said and done, to my mind the biggest thing which can come out of this conference will be solidarity of general viewpoint among Stalin, Roosevelt and Churchill—the big three. There are bound to be differences of opinion regarding some details, and we should be foolish not to expect this. If we can get unity of purpose, however, in this first conference of its kind ever to be attended by the powerful figure of Stalin, then it will have been a vast success.

Release Restricted

"Why? Because the British press and radio were forbidden by the British ministry of information to so much as hint at what the whole world knew.

"In spite of these astonishing facts, official complaints have been made in America that the British were favored on the ground that Reuters, acting correctly and with the enterprise to be expected of a great news organization, had obtained the news in neutral Lisbon and cabled it to America. Reuters was forbidden to distribute the news in this country and respected that ban."

The Daily Mail added the U. S. office of war information "appeared to be attempting to shift responsibility for a joint Anglo-United States official muddle onto the Reuters agency."

The News Chronicle chipped in with a declaration by its Cairo correspondent that "when the full story is published the name of the British ministry of information is going to stink from one end of the United States to the other."

News Delay Raises Protest in Congress

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 — The flashing of news about the Churchill - Roosevelt-Chiang conferences from European capitals while the American public generally had to await an official release of the information to this country's news outlets aroused reverberations in congress today.

One member, Rep. Carlson (R-Kans) likened it to the delayed reports on the Tokyo air raid and the Patton soldier-slapping incidents. He declared:

"We've had too many releases of OWI (office of war information) that smack of the Tokyo raid incident and the Patton incident. We should at least have the news at the same time as the foreign capitals."

Elmer Davis, chief of OWI, is reported to have protested formally to Brendan Bracken, British minister of information, over what he considers premature publication of the Cairo conference by Reuters, British news agency.

Reuters explained its announcement, made from Lisbon, was simply journalistic "enterprise" but Davis rejected the explanation. The OWI head declared American newspapers had the full story but complied with official requests that it be held up until 7:30 p. m., eastern war time, Wednesday.

There was no immediate comment from OWI on the action of the Bayonne, N. J., Times which published the official White House announcement in advance of the release time. Asserting the time restrictions had been violated "not alone by foreign and domestic news agencies" but by OWI itself, the Bayonne newspaper said it acted "on a conviction that the people of the United States are entitled to news as well as any other country in the world."

TO REVEAL NUMBERS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2—Representative Everett M. Dirkson (R-Ill), who is serving his sixth term in congress, announced today he would be a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination next year.

Attached to his formal announcement was a copy of a petition signed by 36 members of congress, including 11 from Illinois, urging him to submit his name to the 1944 national convention of his party.

Two More Kenton Men Awarded Army Medals

KENTON, O., Dec. 2—The silver star award for gallantry and intrepidity in action outside the line of duty today had been awarded to two more Kenton men for their part in the battle for Munda, New Georgia, last July and August.

Lt. Col. Herbert W. Radcliffe, commanding officer of Kenton Company E when it entered federal service and at present commander of the Second Battalion, 148th Infantry, 37th Division, won his medal for going forward in the face of heavy enemy fire to personally encourage his men to drive off superior numbers of Japs.

Lt. William E. Drews, now home recovering from two wounds sustained on different dates in the Munda battle, was honored for carrying on, despite his wounds, and directing his platoon to accomplishment of its mission. At that time he was first lieutenant in Company A, which mobilized at Ottawa.

CAT SHARES MILK

KENTON, Dec. 2—Mrs. W. W. Green, farm women of near Rushsylvania, south of Kenton, reports that she placed a saucer of milk for the family cat and returned a short time later to see kitty calmly sharing the liquid with a full-grown opossum. As she watched, they emptied their saucer of milk and went their separate ways.

Galion Church Group Holds Christmas Party

Special to The Star

GALION, Dec. 2—The annual Christmas party was held in connection with the monthly meeting of the Frauen Missions Verein of First Reformed church Wednesday at the home of Clara Manzer and Lydia Marcus.

For the business session, scripture and prayer, Miss Hulda Klopp had charge. The society voted to give $10 to the orphans' home at Ft. Wayne, and $5 to the Old Folks' Home at Upper Sandusky. The program included a story given by Miss Marcus; a Christmas prayer offered by Mrs. John Hosler; and another story read by Mrs. H. W. Wolfelt. Guests were Miss Mary Baldinger of Galion and Mrs. E. Wintringham of Marion.

The December meeting of the Sorosis club was held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Albert Cox, after a luncheon at the Bemiller home. A book review was given by Mrs. Cox. Bridge prize was won by Mrs. Russell Stewart.

Helen Spiggle assisted Mrs. William Goshorn in entertaining members of Pi chapter, Alpha Pi Sigma sorority, this week, at the home of the latter. After a business session, the time was spent in playing bridge and the high score awards went to Mrs. Edward Buck and Mrs. Wilbur Walker.

Bricker's Record As Governor To Be Campaign Basis

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 2—The Keystone of Gov. Bricker's campaign for the Republican presidential nomination will be his record as governor of Ohio, Roy D. Moore, his campaign manager, indicated today on his arrival to take active charge of the campaign.

"I'm a comparative novice at politics," Moore said. "I never was in politics and I never had expected to be, but I think this is an opportunity to get before the people what Ohio has accomplished under his administration," Moore said.

"If we can do a good job in this respect we are perfectly willing to let the people decide if he should be president.

"We also want to let the people know what Governor Bricker stands for. He has been at a disadvantage in past months because he was governor and not a presidential candidate. Now that he is definitely in the presidential race he has broadened his scope to take in different aspects of government."

Moore said he had not yet worked out definite plans for the campaign asserting they probably would shape up slowly. Moore said he expected to spend most of his time at the local headquarters, but added he probably would "get out around the country quite a bit."

NAVY LOSES ESCORT CARRIER IN GILBERTS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2—The United States escort aircraft carrier Liscome Bay was torepoed and sunk by a Japanese submarine during the Gilbert Island operations, and was the only American vessel lost during the engagement, the navy announced today.

The Gilberts engagement itself has been described as one of the bloodiest in the Pacific area.

Rear Admiral Henry M. Mullinnix, reported missing, was said by the navy to have been aboard the carrier.

Captain Irving D. Wiltsie, commander of the Liscome Bay, also is reported missing in action.

The total casualties have not yet been disclosed by the Navy. The normal complement of such carriers has not been announced.

The Liscome Bay was the first American escort carrier reported sunk since U. S. entry into the war and is the first carrier of any kind to be lost in more than a year.

War Production Stops as Men Wash Windows

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Dec. 2 — War production at the American Tool Works halted today as employes, defying a war labor board order, left their machines and instead performed menial tasks such as window-washing and sweeping of floors.

Their action, a spokesman said, was in protest against the company's alleged refusal to grant wage increases. The window-washing, he added, was work "commensurate with the 55-cents-an-hour base pay being received."

UPPER SANDUSKY—William Alfred Warfel, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Warfel Sr. of north of Upper Sandusky, left Tuesday for Sheepshead Bay, N. Y., where he will receive his basic training in the Merchant Marine in which he recently enlisted.

MARION SOLDIER GETS AIR FORCES COMMISSION

William E. Gries Becomes Second Lieutenant at Chanute Field.

William E. Gries, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gries of 494 Courtland terrace, completed an eight-month course in meteorology and was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Army air forces in exercises at Chanute Field, Rantoul, Ill., Nov. 29. He is spending a short leave with his parents prior to entering the Army Air Forces intelligence school at Harrisburg, Pa.

Lt. Gries graduated from Harding High school with the class of 1939 and at the time of his enlistment in the air forces in August, 1942, was a senior at Heidelberg college, Tiffin. He was called to active duty in February of this year and immediately was assigned to the Boca Raton, Fla., Army air base for basic training. Upon the completion of this phase of his training he was transferred to the Grand Rapids, Mich., technical training school, where he was a student for six months in meteorology. In September he was transferred to Chanute Field for advanced training.

MOTHER, CHILDREN KILLED IN PLUNGE

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 2—The bride of an RAF flight officer and her two sons by a previous marriage plunged to stones to their death today.

The three, whose bodies were found close together on a one-story extension of a tall-town hotel, were identified as Mrs. Mary Lindsay Tomlinson, 34, and her sons, Michael Hollingsh, 8, and John Hollingsh, 6.

Police of the West 54th street station said Mrs. Tomlinson's first husband, Guy Hollingsh, was killed in action some time ago with the British forces in Africa. She married Flight Officer David Tomlinson two months ago, they said, and was despondent because she said the children were unable to join him in England.

Detective Peter Houlihan said it had not yet been determined whether the women pushed the two children from the hotel windows and then followed them or whether one child went first and she plunged a few seconds later with the second boy in her arms.

RUDY VALLEE TO WED

By The Associated Press

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 2—Coast Guard Lt. Hubert P. Vallee—he's ex-screener Rudy Vallee—and Screen Actress Bettejane Greer will be married tonight in suburban Westwood Community church by Capt. J. E. Johnson, U. S. navy chaplain. Miss Greer, 19, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Darnell Greer, of Washington, D. C.

TRY AUNT JENNY'S VICTORY MINCE PIE

½ lemon, seeded
½ orange, seeded
2 apples, cored
1 cup raw carrots ground
1 cup seedless raisins
2 tablespoons Spry
½ cup brown sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon cloves
½ cup corn syrup
½ cup water
1 teaspoon salt
1 recipe Spry Pie crust

Put lemon, orange, apples and carrots through food chopper, using coarse knife. Combine with remaining ingredients; bring to a boil and boil gently 10 minutes. Cool.

Roll ⅔ of dough and line a 9-inch pie plate. Fill pastry with filling. Moisten edge of pie with water. Roll out remaining dough for top crust and cut a few slits. Fit pastry to edge of fruit and seal edge. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) 40 minutes.

FLAKY SPRY PIE CRUST

Mix 2½ cups sifted ALL-PURPOSE FLOUR and 1 teaspoon SALT. Measure out ⅔ cup SPRY and cut in flour until two equal parts.

STEP 1 for Tenderness — cut in one half of SPRY as fine as meal.

STEP 2 for Flakiness — cut in remaining half of SPRY until particles are size of large peas.

Add 5 tablespoons cold WATER, one more, as little as needed, thoroughly into a dough.

[illegible] vegetables combined [illegible] a ready [illegible] way of [illegible] appetite satisfaction [illegible] a main dish [illegible] meal service. One good [illegible] wonderful [illegible] of left-over [illegible] other vegetables of [illegible] Combined [illegible] sprinkling [illegible] Another [illegible] to combine [illegible] flavored [illegible] vegetable and a [illegible] flavored.

Art of Combining Vegetables

There is real art in [illegible] vegetables. Peas and beans both become [illegible] rome, but are [illegible] combined with [illegible] various or [illegible] for example. Peas [illegible] little [illegible] add color and [illegible] vegetable combination.

To prepare creamed peas and hard-cooked eggs, [illegible] 12-ounce package [illegible] per ordering to package directions. Hard cook 4 eggs. Melt 2 tablespoons margarine in saucepan. Add 2 teaspoons minced onion and 2½ tablespoons flour and stir to a paste. Add 1¾ cups milk, stirring constantly. Measure liquor drained from cooked vegetable, adding milk, if necessary, to make 6 tablespoons. Add to white sauce and blend. Season with salt and pepper to taste. Add white sauce [illegible]

Green Beans and Onions

[illegible] mouse [illegible] onions [illegible] Cook [illegible] 20 minutes [illegible] Melt 3 tablespoons margarine in saucepan. Add 3 tablespoons flour and [illegible] and milk and [illegible] until smooth and [illegible] Measure liquor drained from beans gradually and [illegible] stirring constantly. Add teaspoon salt and pepper to taste, also beans and [illegible] Heat thoroughly and serve.

If baked potatoes are on the menu, here [illegible] Before taking potatoes out of oven put [illegible] sour cream cheese on [illegible] and salt just before serving.

Hunter's Samaritan Proves Not So Good

By The Associated Press

CASPER, Wyo.—Alfred Stretch, on a hunting trip, killed a deer and then discovered he had lost the keys to his car.

A stranger, who came along, volunteered to haul the carcass to Stretch's car and push the machine to the nearest town.

All went well until they reached a long, long hill. The stranger gave Stretch's car a good vigorous shove. It coasted fast and far.

At the bottom of the hill Stretch waited a long time for the obliging stranger—and Stretch's fat deer—to show up. He's never seen either of them since.

Add Sauce To Baked Fish

... like are a help ... that wholesome ... sauce will make ... difference between a tasteless ... and a really delicious ...

MENU

... with Tomato Sauce, Fried Potatoes, Spinach, Tomato Salad, Apple Pie, ...

Tomato Sauce

... 3 tbsps. butter or ... c. canned tomatoes, ... thyme, ½ bay leaf, 1½ ... tsps. salt, ¼ c. stock, salt and ...

... onions in thin slices and ... ½ butter or margarine. ... tatoes, thyme and bay ... cook slowly for about ... minutes, until onion is thin ... paste. While this is simmering, melt remaining butter, add flour and brown, blend and stock, stirring and cooking until thickened; combine with tomato paste, cook for about 10 minutes, add salt and pepper, and strain.

Cucumber Sauce

2 cucumbers or large cucumber pickles, ½ tsp. onion juice, 2 tbsps. of salad oil, one tbsp. vinegar, salt and pepper to taste.

Peel fresh cucumbers and chop finely; chop pickles if they are used; drain to get rid of moisture and add onion juice, oil, vinegar and seasonings beaten together. Serve as soon as made.

Bernaise Sauce

4 egg yolks, 4 tbsps. oil or melted butter 2 tsps. hot water, 1 tsp. plain or tarragon vinegar, salt and pepper.

Put well beaten egg yolks in ... and stand in saucepan of hot water over fire; add oil or butter very gradually, stirring all the time. Dilute with the hot water and keep stirring until thick and smooth. Remove at once from heat and add vinegar, salt and pepper. This sauce needs careful watching while it is being made.

Parsley Sauce

2 level tbsps. butter or margarine, 2 tbsps. flour, 1 c. milk or water, 1 tsp. lemon juice, salt and pepper to taste, 2 tsps. chopped parsley.

Put fat and flour together in saucepan, blend thoroughly without browning; add milk or water a little at a time, stirring constantly until sauce boils. Cook 5 minutes, add salt and pepper and lemon juice, and, just before serving, add the chopped parsley.

Home-Made Yule Candy

CHRISTMAS CEREAL BALLS: Fun to make, fun to eat.

Christmas Cereal Balls

½ cup corn syrup, 1 cup sugar, ½ cup water, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 10 cups puffed cereal.

Mix corn syrup, sugar and water. Heat to boil, stirring constantly. Boil slowly, stirring occasionally, to 256° F. (or when a little dropped into cold water forms soft ball). Add salt and vinegar; boil to 290° F. (or when a little dropped into cold water separates into heavy threads). Remove from heat; add vanilla. Pour quickly over puffed cereal in large shallow bowl, mixing well. Form lightly into balls; cool on waxed paper. Makes 12 balls about 3 inches in diameter.

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE
Associated Press Food Editor

Saying Merry Christmas with home-made confections is a grand old American custom. So get the family and neighbors together some evening for an old-fashioned fun fest of candy making. It will bring back memories of happy peacetime days.

You can now get enough sirups, figs, raisins and other candy makings to cook up sizable batches. Popcorn confections and salted peanuts held together with molasses, assorted fudges and divinities are festive holiday favorites.

If black walnuts are unavailable for that delicious black walnut penoche, put in some black walnut flavoring. You can buy it most places. Pepperment flavoring adds a new twist to taffy which is pulled into strings and snipped off with scissors. Bonbons, fashioned from confectioner's sugar and hot cream and with assorted flavorings, lend a professional air to Christmas boxes.

WHITE TAFFY has many possibilities when varied with assorted flavorings and colorings. Boil together, without stirring, 1 cup sugar, ¼ cup light corn sirup, 1 tablespoon vinegar and ½ cup boiling water. When a "click" ball forms when a small portion is tested in cold water, stir in ¼ teaspoon soda and pour into 2 soup plates, rinsed out with cold water. After 5 minutes add ¼ teaspoon almond, lemon or vanilla extract or other flavoring to each dish and when stiff, about the edges and cool enough to handle, stir until thick and then "pull" until stiff. (If desired a few drops of coloring can be poured into the dishes.) When the taffy is thick pull into a rope about ¼ inch thick. Twist and cut off inch pieces. Lay on waxed paper for 30 minutes, and pack in waxed paper lined box (tin suggested). Nuts or coconut can be sprinkled over the cut taffy or pulled into the taffy for more flavor.

CREAM FONDANT is made like this: Boil gently, stirring frequently, 2 cups confectioner's sugar and ½ cup cream, until soft ball forms when tested in cold water. Pour into 2 soup plates. After 10 minutes, pour ¼ teaspoon flavoring into each dish and stir until the fondant becomes thick and creamy. Take up in hands and knead for 5 minutes. Roll out balls or other shapes and let stand 30 minutes or longer on waxed paper. Dip in melted chocolate or fondant, or decorate tops with strips of candied cherries, fruit peels or nut meats. Tint the fondant pastel shades before stirring, if you like.

To make FONDANT SQUARES, pat out a thin layer of fondant, press chopped nuts, candied fruit or dates into it and then fold half over. Press together and cut into squares.

DIVINITY takes a lot of beating, so let the men help with it. Boil without stirring, 2 cups sugar, ½ cup light corn sirup and ½ cup water, until a firm ball forms when portion is tested in cold water. Pour at once, slowly, into 2 beaten egg whites. Beat steadily until thick and dull, add 1 teaspoon vanilla, ¼ teaspoon salt and 1-3 cup chopped nuts or candied fruits. Pour into greased shallow pan and when firm mark into bars.

Brother of Marion War Victim Is Transferred

Clyde R. Ashworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde H. Ashworth of 183 North State street and a brother of Pfc. Glen W. Ashworth, one of Marion county's first World War II casualties, has been sent from the reception center at Ft. Hayes to Camp Robinson, Ark., the Ft. Hayes public relations center reports.

Pfc. Ashworth was killed in action on the North African front Nov. 8. He died apparently somewhere near Casablanca on the day following the now-historic North African invasion.

The Ft. Hayes public relations center reported Earl H. Gamble of 382 West Columbia street and Clayton T. Napper of 324 Holmes place were also sent from Ft. Hayes to Camp Robinson.

This country has the world's largest oil reserves, approximately 20,000,000,000 barrels.

"TRY MY SECRET for Happy Breakfasts"

I USED TO DREAD BREAKFAST... It always ended with John grumpy and glum. I thought it was me ... until ...

MY GROCER SUGGESTED... Blend 150 Coffee. Now I know what started John off wrong. And once again it's ...

HAPPY BREAKFAST EVERY MORNING. John's all smiles and praise—for me! But Blend 150 is my happy secret! Try it.

The Coffee you make can make the day

MEN LIKE Blend 150 better than any other kind. And it's easy to understand why.

Most coffee is a blend of only 3 or 4 varieties. Blend 150 uses six! The finest obtainable! By varying the proportions of these costly coffees, literally thousands of blends can be made. We tried them all. Gave each a number. Experts rated No. 150 (hence the name, Blend 150) the finest coffee ever blended.

And you will too! For it's the perfect blend of only the choicest, most costly coffees in all the world. Medellin from Colombia for richness. Mexican Coatepec for winey flavor. Guatemala for mellowness. San Salvador for full body. Costa Rican for fragrance. And rare Arabian Mocha for distinctive flavor.

No other coffee, to our knowledge, uses so many costly, flavorful varieties.

That is why Blend 150 gives you ...

A Good Cup of Coffee EVERY TIME!

CONTROLLED FRESHNESS The kind of package does not make coffee fresh. For real roaster freshness, coffee must reach your grocer at its flavor peak. Blend 150 is always roaster fresh, because of weekly deliveries to your grocer. Try Blend 150 today. You'll never again be satisfied with any other kind.

Harding Basketball Squad Cut from 50 to 23 Members in Preparation for Delaware Game

[illegible] smaller, more streamlined Marion [illegible] squad [illegible] on the Edison Junior High [illegible] practically every department of [illegible] rehearsals tonight in preparation for the season [illegible] against Delaware Wilds here tomorrow night.

Head Coach DeTey Bonner and [illegible] Joe Perron finally [illegible] participated now at Tuesday's practice and [illegible] the squad personnel from 50 to 23.

[illegible] objective of the cut is better team [illegible] that hampered with the [illegible] roster. The Presidents [illegible] spring 14 and [illegible] last Tuesday [illegible] expected to attend [illegible] input for this stage of the [illegible] the drastically de- [illegible]

[illegible] Delaware varsity, which [illegible] several holdovers, [illegible] year's team, will meet [illegible] the curtain raiser [illegible] Junior Varsity preliminary [illegible] the two-game [illegible] Edison gym at [illegible] o'clock.

Survivors of Tuesday's cut are Clare Fazio, Ray Kilbourn, Stew Young, Boy Virden, Bill Williams, Russ Guyton, Jack Koeppen, Fritz Gutt, Leon Leven, Jim McGrath, Max [illegible] Zook, Jim Burgess, Bob [illegible]ton, Ray Ballinger, Carl Har- [illegible] Lee, Don Shirk, Paul [illegible] Dave Heisler, Ralph Weber, [illegible] Hennes, Laurie Feaver and Ed Preston.

Of these Young, Fazio, Guy, Beard, Kilbourn or Virden will compose the starting lineup.

The Willis visitors admittedly will be tough customers for the Presidents to cope with, but because of an eager Delaware desire to regain some lost prestige, a Harding victory over the invaders will be doubly difficult to effect. Last season the locals downed the Black Panthers in a regular season game, 27 to 24, and repeated the trick in a semi-final central district tournament contest. With several of last year's outfit returning, including Clark Elliott and Bruce Cowgill, Delaware will be gunning for a decisive triumph.

This year's President five will be out to maintain the excellent cage records which have been the rule rather than the exception with Harding basketball teams in the last few years. Last season, Harding experienced one of its most successful campaigns,

Forest Grid Banquet To Be Held Tonight

FOREST, Dec. 2—The annual banquet for the football players of Forest High school, will be held tonight at the high school. Letters of award will be presented by Coach D. Ray Baum to Walter Burk, George Buxton, William Cook, Lee Kellogg, Eugene McDaniel, Donald Rahrig, Ronald Rahrig, Burton Snider, Robert Tracy (Capt.), Leroy Weber, Harold Wright, Mervin Wright and Charles Lutz, (Mgr). Other members of the squad are Robert Boehm, William Hart, Gerald Koehler, Dan Liles, George Liles, Larry Liles, Loren Snider, Earl Windle and John McEntee, (asst. mgr.).

The response to the presentation of the awards will be given by Robert Tracy, who was elected honorary captain. Following the dinner movies of local football games and other sports film will be shown.

Action, Spills, Thrills!

Anyone who witnessed the sterling Thanksgiving wrestling program staged under the supervision of Les Fishbaugh at the Armory will vouch for the statement that the holiday card was one of the best ever presented on the local mat. However, last week's even doesn't have anything on tonight's action-packed bouts at the West Church street arena.

Two of the ring's mightiest veterans, Gil LaCrosse, the tricky Toledo welder, and Joe Perona, the tough Bostonian, will trade holds in the two-hour main go. In the hour-long semi-final it will be Whitey Walberg, highly-touted metropolitan matman, against Angelo Martinelli.

A couple of men who have not made many Marion appearances, Dory Funk and Bobby Castle, the Kansas City star, will meet in the 30-minute preliminary which will open proceedings promptly at 8:30.

Crowd Protests Judges' Decision Favoring Bivins

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Dec. 2—Officials of Jimmy Bivins, the county [illegible] Beaver [illegible] the popular choice [illegible] Lee Q. Murray from South Norwalk, Conn.

The judges' decision awarded Bivins, eight bout tonight's 10-rounder between the two Negroes prompted a chorus of protest from Ohio's record indoor boxing crowd of 14,500 who thought they were seeing the Cleveland lose his first fight ever. Bob Parton came out on top in April of 1942.

The shock-stunned Bivins was booed all the way to the dressing room while the disappointed Murray drew a tumultuous ovation.

One sports writer said dashed off the opening gasps of the story of a Bivins defeat before the public address system informed the capacity audience that Jimmy instead of losing, had notched his 14th straight triumph.

Referee Jacke Davis, whose shirt was drenched with blood from a cut over Bivins' left eye, and Judges Jim Parker and Henry Williams agreed on five rounds for Bivins, three for Murray and two even.

Tris Speaker, who concluded his tenure as chairman of the Cleveland boxing commission with last night's program said he thought Murray had won and added he was "surprised" at the decision.

The Associated Press scorecard voted, six rounds for Murray three for Bivins and one even.

Bivins scaled 187¾, the heaviest weight of his career, but he gave away 12¾ pounds to Murray.

In a scheduled 10-rounder that followed the main event Lulu Costantino of New York floored Freddy Pope of Columbus six times in the fourth heat before gaining a technical knockout. Costantino weighed 133½, Pope 126.

Pfc Joey Maxim of Cleveland and the U. S. Army dropped Claudio Villar of Spain four times in the sixth of a scheduled 10-rounder and won a technical knockout. The weights: Maxim 182, Villar 200.

Other results:

Maxie Berger, 146, Montreal, decisioned Cheek Hunter, Cleveland, eight rounds.

Fitzy Fitzpatrick, 164, Cleveland, decisioned Sammy Kirsch, Baltimore eight rounds.

Berry Wright, 141, Cleveland, decisioned Lee Hogan, 150, Buffalo, four rounds.

Forest To Open Season with Roundhead Friday

FOREST, Dec. 2—Forest High will open its 1943-'44 basketball season Friday evening when Roundhead appears on the local court. Coach D. Ray Baum has a squad of 20 boys working out but most of them are freshmen without experience. There are five seniors on the squad, Donald Hankins, Lee Kellogg, Gaylord Liles, Ralph Lodge and William Waller. These boys along with two juniors, Raymond Stewart and Roy Weber will see much action during the year although several freshmen are pushing them hard to maintain a place on the quad. The preliminary game will begin at 7:30.

SNATCHES OF SPORTS

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2—Coming up for the second round, it appears that baseball's insurgents had about as much chance against Judge Bramham as Kingfish Levinsky had against Joe Louis ...It was the same kind of a slaughter except that ringside seats were free—and, like one of Joe's first-round kayoes, it left observers wondering how they ever figured it would be a fight ..Before disappearing into a caucus at which the five out-voted league heads apparently were trying to figure out what they could save from the wreckage, Shag Shaughnessy came up with a big grin and remarked: "Well, I guess we gave 'em a show. I think it's good for baseball to bring these things out in the open." ... Crack of the day from the losing side, John (Buffalo) Stiglmeier's "I want to compliment the president on the way he has conducted this meeting on behalf of his votes."

Lobby Patrol—One veteran minor leaguer refused to be impressed by yesterday's fuss. I've seen it happen twice before," he commented, and each time the result was the same. The men who were in the driver's seat stayed there".. Perhaps the most confused man in the place is Walter 'Boom Boom' Beck, who used to pitch for the Phils. Bill Cox named Beck as manager of the Utica, N. Y., club before completing arrangements for his release from Knoxville, Tenn. Now with new men running the Phils, Boom Boom doesn't know whether he's a manager, player or just a guy looking for a job. Branch Rickey says this is the most unusual baseball convention he ever attended, "because nobody is talking about winning the pennant."

Cleaning the Cuff—Whether the Southern Association moves up to class AA may depend on whether leagues below that class are allowed to pay bonuses to sign free agents. Billy Evans points out that the south has a lot of good ball players who won't quit full-time jobs without a little extra inducement.

Games will be accepted for any nights of the week except Monday or Tuesday.

Landis Still Holds Tight Rein on Baseball, Rebellion Put Down

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 2—[illegible] Kenesaw Mountain Landis [illegible] baseball [illegible] their respective [illegible] the last desperate [illegible] for some new [illegible] revolution [illegible] the baseball [illegible] they took to [illegible] last night after the regular [illegible] annual meeting of the National [illegible] Professional [illegible] baseball [illegible] the minors [illegible] annual meeting finally got a bit of [illegible] trade talk to chew on.

[illegible] the midst of this gossip [illegible] and the [illegible] baseball market place [illegible] the Washington Senators, [illegible] and assorted rumors had them [illegible] changing hands (a) the Cleveland Indians, to the New York Yankees and (b) to the St. Louis Browns, Jesse Burkett, the burrying manager of the Nats, was about the busiest guy around the place as he went into a set of huddles with Lou Boudreau, the Tribes' boss, Luke Sewell, the Brownies' pilot, and Joseph McCarthy of the Bombers.

Out of these [illegible] the most frequently passed-around tip was that the Reds were after pitcher Jim Bagby, infielder Russ Peters and [illegible] Fraser left Heath from the Indians. The Tribe, which needs a center fielder almost as much as it needs cash customers, wanted in return outfielder Stan Spence, pitcher Bobo Newsom and infielder Johnny Sullivan. None of the Cleveland officials explained what they wanted Bobo for, however. The pitch in this entire transaction appeared to be that Washington didn't want to give up Spence, one of the top center gardeners in the American league.

The big noise still was the late-lamented revolution. Of course, Landis still might revive it but the "guessing" was about 1 to 10 that he wouldn't.

William G. Bramham, the National Association president, gave back voting privileges to 16 minor leagues whose ballot he took away several months ago because they didn't operate in 1943. As a result, Bramham was reelected president of the National association for another year.

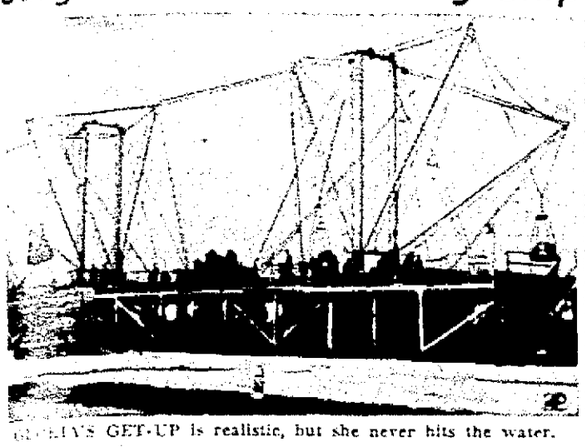
Cargo Loaders' Training Ship



GLORIA'S GET-UP is realistic, but she never hits the water.

By The Associated Press

HARAHAN, La. — The ...dled men who load and ...e touchy goods of war ... their trade right here ... the grace of Army in... and the good ship Gloria. ... Gloria looks more like a ... a carnival trapeze act ... And she can't sail a ... nt deck winches and ... give the county fair ... and she's really only a sort ... of platform with hatches through which trainees stow and discharge their "practice cargoes" some 24 hours a day.

Gloria, a fake transport with salt-water airs (she even has a bell and whistle) is the classroom of the transportation corps battalion trainees. To them is assigned the overseas job of feeding supplies to Allied armies.

Night and day the big deck winches jerk the dummy cargo from a dummy wharf and stab it into the Gloria's hatches. Then they unload. And so it goes, unceasingly, except for slight delays between shifts when her mascharety is oiled and pressed, the Gloria is never quiet.

Truck operators learn to move their loads into exact position to be scooped into the hold of the Gloria; other men are trained to tinker the giant air compressors which squirt their invisible power into the winches; all are trained in the technique of cramming a maximum of material into a minimum of space, in the shortest possible time. In the time perhaps that it takes an enemy reconnaissance plane to beckon its bombers.

The men of the port battalions know that luck is a brittle thing. They don't depend on it. They trust in speed.

Officers here say that Harahan graduates are unloading grease and steel and explosives around the world—in the shortest possible time; men who learned their business on a ship that couldn't sail a lick.

Surprise Mobilization of State Guard Held

Special to The Star

KENTON, O., Dec. 2—Lt. Col. Cecil J. Davis, commanding officer of the Third Battalion, First Regiment, Ohio State Guard, today classified as "very successful" the surprise battalion mobilization Monday night when 10 officers and 126 enlisted men of a total strength of 10 officers and 148 enlisted men mobilized within an hour at Kenton, Piqua and Sidney.

Many residents, mistaking the siren call as a civilian defense alarm, patrolled air raid warden beats or met at C. D. transportation and other centers. Several homes "blacked out" and two downtown business places turned off their lights.

Apples were brought to America by early French, Dutch and English settlers.

High Scoring Session Held by Bowlers Tuesday Night with Eighteen 200-or-Better Totals Recorded.

Local bowlers enjoyed one of their best sessions of the season Tuesday night as eighteen 200-or-better games were chalked up. Heading the individual scoring column was Thibaut of the Marion Steam Shovel league, who had a 245 game and a 602 series. T. Chapman, Men's All-Star league pinman, finished a close second with a 243 mark posted at the Marion Recreation Center.

With the season over one-third completed, the All-Star and Shovel loop races are far from being sewed up by any single team. "Schaffner - Denzer and Marion Auto Finance are deadlocked for top spot in the All-Star circuit while Teams No. 5, 9, and 10 share first-place honors among Shovel outfits.

Other double century games in the Shovel league were B. Little 209 and 202, K. Little 223, Armbuster 208, Griffiths 225, Koeppen 201, and Coss 212.

Other 200 marks in the All-Star league were Cookston 234, Metz 224, Baldauf 200, Yazel 213, Schuler 203, Norris 208, B. Barber 203, Howard 218, and Messmore 221.

Standings and individual three-game-series totals in both leagues Tuesday night follow:

Kirkpatrick Couple Honored at Party

Special to The Star

KIRKPATRICK — Mr. and Mrs. Paul Clutter were surprised Sunday when a group of relatives and friends gathered at their home west of here in observance of their 25th wedding anniversary. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shields and family of Richwood, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Speece and family of Bucyrus, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Clutter and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lemke and family. A potluck dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Clutter of Marion were afternoon guests. Mr. and Mrs. Clutter were presented a gift.

The P.-T. A. held a meeting at the gym Tuesday night. Singing was led by Mrs. Carl Bailey; scripture reading was by Miss Marjorie Grimes and prayer by Mrs. Donald Lyon. The following were appointed as the ways and means committee: Mr. and Mrs. Earl Speece, Vinol Likens, Mrs. Jessie Daugherty, Mrs. Easom Burris, Mrs. Charles Lemke and Mrs. Ralph Lemke. A Christmas program by the school will be given Dec. 23. The program for the evening was presented by the 4-H club girls with their leaders, Mrs. Harold Beers and Miss Hazel Dobbins and consisted of 4-H songs and the pledge, piano solo, Joan Lyon, demonstration on made-over clothing, cornet solo, Gwyn Beers, first aid in the care of burns, Ann and Margie Large, piano solo, Mary Ellen Hinamon, vocal trio, Twila, Amy and Gwyn Beers, reading, Doris Boyd. This was a completion of the 4-H girls year's work and each member was presented a certificate and pin by Miss Cook, Marion county demonstration agent. Two boys, Marvin Beers and Damon Monnett, were also presented certificates. A short talk was given by A. H. Smith, county agricultural agent, and a duet number was sung by Mary Ellen Hinamon and Genevieve Dobbins.

5 Named to 3-Year Fair Board Terms

Paul D. Michel, secretary of the Marion county fair board, announced today the results of an election Saturday in which five men were elected fair board trustees for terms of three years each. Those elected were H. L. Beaver of Green Camp township, J. F. Swisher of Scott township, Lloyd B. Williams of Salt Rock township, C. S. Dutton of Bowling Green township and Clyde Hinamon of Grand Prairie township. Mr. Michel said executive officers of the board will be elected Dec. 11.

HOW to do it . . . .

WITH CONCRETE

While you're improving your farm for greater "war food" production, do the job for keeps, with concrete! Here's a "how to do it" book that will help you build such essential structures as:

Barn Floors	Watering Tanks
Feeding Floors	Septic Tanks
Walks, Runways	Home Improvements
Foundations	Manure Pits
Concrete Masonry Construction	Trench Silos
Cisterns	Hog Wallows
	Self-Saving Dams

Remember, concrete is fireafe, termite-proof, easy to work with, low in first cost, needs little upkeep, endures for generations—and it requires a minimum of critical war materials.

Bucyrus 50-Year Club Annual Meeting Dec. 14

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Dec. 2—Three new members will be received when the Bucyrus Fifty Year club meets for the thirteenth successive year at Good Hope Lutheran church Dec. 14.

W. A. Bilske will entertain members of the club and Bucyrus Rotarians at a dinner at which Julius E. Rohn, native of Bucyrus, superintendent of Ashland public schools and past Rotary president will be the speaker.

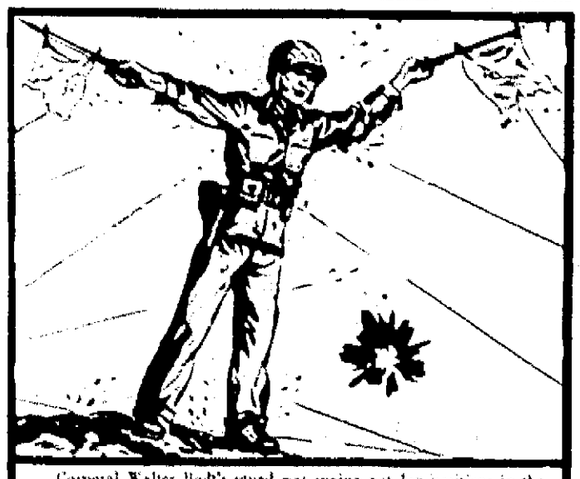
New members this year are James A. Leiter, grocer, Elmer F. Seitz, carpenter, and George F. Fischer, hardware merchant. They have completed a half century in the same business in Bucyrus this year.

Bucyrus Mail Carrier in Service 30 Years

BUCYRUS, Dec. 2—Thirty years of service as a rural mail carrier have been completed by Clarence F. Musser, oldest Bucyrus rural mail carrier in point of service. Musser began his rounds with a horse drawn mail wagon, Dec. 1, 1913, and with one exception, when a driving snow took every rural carrier off his route, has traveled his route every day during the 30 years. In 1925 Musser discarded his horse drawn wagon in favor of motor equipment but still treasures his mail wagon and keeps it in perfect condition "if an emergency arises." In addition to carrying mail Musser operates a small farm.

AMERICAN HEROES

BY LEFF



Corporal Walter Bodt's squad was spying out Jap positions in the Pacific. We needed information badly. The squad got it, but was cut off from our lines. Using handkerchiefs tied to bayonets, Marine Corporal Bodt wigwagged the information back. He lost an eye, sustained other wounds from furious enemy fire, but his message was urgent. He stuck and got it through, winning the Navy Cross. Weapons are urgent too, and your War Bonds buy them.

GRAIN TURNS WEAK AFTER EARLY RISE

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Dec. 2 — Grains were firm during early trading today, helped by mill buying of wheat which sent May and July contracts to new seasonal peaks, but liquidation developed toward the close and practically all early gains were erased.

December contracts in wheat and rye, in which trading concludes next Wednesday, bore the brunt of the selling. News included announcement by the Commodity Credit Corporation of the purchase of 1,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat for delivery to Buffalo and a department of agriculture statement that the corn situation will remain tight in practically all areas.

BUYING RULES MARKET TODAY

Nearly All Departments Share in Upswing Started Yesterday.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 2— Further buying ruled today's stock market proceedings and virtually all departments participated in an extension of Wednesday's upswing.

While profit taking cut down a few of the recently bounding issues, forward tendencies were general at the opening. Gains of fractions to a point or so were widely distributed near the fourth hour.

Details of the Cairo allied conference served to stem sizeable peace-selling to a considerable extent.

Prominent stocks in front included U. S. Steel, Santa Fe, Western Union "A," Consolidated Edison, Baldwin Corporation, J. C. Penney, Loew's, Chrysler, Westinghouse, U. S. Rubber, Sears Roebuck, Douglas Aircraft, Texas Co. and Eastern Kodak. American Distilling lost a sizable slice of its 10-point jump of yesterday.

Singer To Aid Marion Church

A benefit concert for the Quinn Chapel A. M. E. church at 127 Park street will be given by Mrs. Louise Malone Bracken of Grand Rapids, Mich., in the church Friday at 8 p. m.

Mrs. Bracken, known as "The only woman bass singer in America," was educated at Tuskegee college in Alabama, was a pupil of the late Dr. George Washington Carver, and has traveled abroad. The offering taken will be used to help repair the church.

Sunday morning she will present a sacred program in the Prospect Street Methodist church and talk on the problems of Negro people. Sunday night she will appear in Wesley Methodist church.

Public Farewell For Col. Shaffer Tonight

Members of the Marion Chamber of Commerce will join with officers of the Marion Engineer Depot in honoring Col. C. H. Shaffer, former commanding officer of the depot, in a farewell dinner party in Hotel Harding at 6:30 tonight.

D. E. Thompson of Cleveland, assistant vice president in charge of traffic of the Erie railroad, will be the principal speaker.

Col. Shaffer recently was placed in charge of an Army Service Forces depot at Richmond, Va. Col. David L. Neuman, until recently in charge of the engineering section of the Columbus ASF depot, replaced Col. Shaffer.

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

"OF COURSE that will be Steve's chief worry." I answered with a fear that Philip Veritzen will find out about the stolen bonds in the last day or two of the last day of [illegible]

"Exactly," my father said. "That will be the greatest weapon in your [illegible]

There were a dozen questions trembling against my lips for utterance, but I knew better than to voice them until the Chief had finished mapping the course he wished me to follow.

"I am not going to be a party to your campaign," my father said perspicuously—and unfortunately for it would have been easier to follow directions if I had known my own procedure. "As a result, everything will depend upon Steve's reaction to your knowledge of his crimes. You know him better than anyone of us. Use it."

He paused, and I groped for words.

"Surely, you are not thinking of—"

"Mary is out of the picture, so far as this particular enterprise is concerned," he said. "In the first place, she has neither the poise nor the experience necessary to deal with Steve in this thing. In the second place, she already has rendered an invaluable service to us in discovering that Steve was snooping around that stolen document. I promised both her and Noel that I would not call on her for any service again unless for the gravest emergency. That has not yet arisen."

Madge Is Contrite

"I'm sorry, father," I said contritely. "I should have known—"

"You are forgiven," he said, but without even the trace of a smile. "And as I was saying—"

I finished the famous quotation mentally: "When I was interrupted," but I uttered no syllable aloud, and kept my eyes fixed attentively on my father's face.

"As you know Steve's mentality and personality, you will be able to tell whether his reactions to what you have to tell him are genuine emotions or theatrical poses to hide what he is really thinking. And when you have decided that point, and have finished telling him what we know about him, then you will have to be guided by your own intuition as to the bargain you will make with him."

A Long Pause

It was at least three seconds which seemed as many interminable hours before he spoke again.

"You are to promise him two things if he does what I wish.

"First, that Philip Veritzen will not be told of the forgery or the receiving of Georges' money from Ruth Hayes.

A frosty little smile touched the corners of his mouth as he threw a sop to what Dicky calls my "Puritan conscience."

"You will be telling the exact truth," he said. "Phil will not be told of Stephen's activities, for he already knows everything there is to know about the affair."

I winced at the subterfuge, but fortunately he did not notice my reactions, and went on:

"Second, you will tell Stephen that if he puts himself at my disposal, I will not turn him over to the authorities for forgery or the receiving of stolen goods.

Knows His Associates

"Next, you will tell him that I know he and Milner are associated with a gang of criminals—you are not to say conspirators or traitors, for it is not my plan to have him know just now what I have learned concerning this international conspiracy.

"Finally, you are to tell him the price he is to pay for the immunity from arrest and prosecution I am giving him.

"It will be a heavy price," he said, "and I am not sure that [illegible]

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Food Prejudices

"I remember it only too well," said my old friend, Dr. Adrian Gibbs, "Sunday noon. That was when my Uncle John used to come and have dinner with us. This goes back to about 1880.

"Well, Saturday must have been a terrible day every week for Mother. When she went to market I could hear her murmuring under her shawl—John doesn't eat fish, and they have such nice fowl in the market now.'

"The list of things Uncle John did not eat would stretch from here to Moscow. And in the present later years of my life I wonder how he acquired those food habits.

"I can assess myself and I can see that I have any number of food habits that are simple nonsense. For instance, I can not eat liver. Any kind of liver!—chicken, beef, lamb! Yet I know perfectly well that liver is a healthy food.

Not only that, but my sister Clara yearns for liver. Every time I take her to a restaurant she selects liver. So it can't be a religious prejudice, nor one based on family remembrances, or admonitions.

"Then too I got over some of my earlier prejudices. I don't recall ever seeing sausage on the table at my father's house. And until I got married I never remember to have eaten sausage. Now I can't get enough of it.

"The consequences are deeper than you would imagine, on first thought. All prison riots begin with complaints about food. Admittedly the food itself is not the only cause for a riot, but when the atmosphere in any corrective institution becomes tense, for other reasons, one bad meal is enough to bring about a violent situation.

"And when I think of the number of marriages that are wrecked on account of poorly prepared foods, I am not surprised that the divorce courts are kept busy night and day.

"I see by the medical papers that a gentleman by the name of Selling, in Detroit, has interviewed a number of people to try to determine their food likes and dislikes. It appears that sex has something to do with it. Sixty-seven per cent of the men he questioned preferred meat, but only 35 per cent of the women. The women were definately in favor of [illegible] and canned [illegible]

Money spent for War Bonds goes to the front. Sometimes it provides spectacular equipment like planes, oft times it buys a rusty donkey like this American soldier is taking ashore in Italy. The quicker your dollars go into action, the sooner it will be over. Buy More War Bonds.

[illegible] pie can't eat if the plate is too full, and vice versa.

"I remember having saved a man's reputation once by giving him some dietary advice. It was Judge Summerwell. Some lawyers came to me and said I ought to speak to him. He invariably fell asleep on the bench after the noon recess. I gave him a food questionnaire and finally talked him into having a light lunch and his heavy meal at night. That way he bothered only his family by going to sleep."
